64 Effect of discovery of instruments of gaming

Where a place suspected to be open, kept or used as a place for unlawful gaming is lawfully entered by a member of the Police Force or a gaming inspector, the discovery therein or on or about a person found in the place of an instrument of gaming, gaming machine, ticket dispensing machine or thing used in or associated with playing an unlawful game is prima facie evidence that:

- (a) the place is used as a place for unlawful gaming; and it shall be prima facie evidence that the place is used for unlawful gaming and that the persons found in the place were playing an unlawful game therein.

66 Evidence as to offences

Where, on the hearing of a complaint relating to an offence against this Part, the court is of the opinion that money or a valuable thing which has to its satisfaction been proved to have been given to, or received or paid by the accused person, or given to, or received or paid by a person on the accused person's behalf, has been given, received or paid, as the case may be, in circumstances which, in the mind of the court, raise a reasonable suspicion that such money or thing was so given, received or paid in contravention of this Part, the giving, receiving or paying shall be prima facie evidence of the commission by the accused person of the offence specified in the complaint.

67 Reasonable suspicion sufficient

Where, on the hearing of a complaint against a person in relation to an offence against this Part, the evidence for the prosecution is such as to raise in the mind of the court hearing the complaint a reasonable suspicion that the person is guilty of the offence, that evidence is prima facie evidence that the person is guilty of that offence.

or a description of such items, to be specified, and a search for any such items may be conducted by authority of the warrant.

- (2) A member of the Police Force or gaming inspector who lawfully enters a place on or in which the member or gaming inspector has reasonable grounds for suspecting that an offence against this Part is, has been or is about to be carried on may, with such assistance as the member or gaming inspector thinks necessary, if necessary by force:

- (4) Where the ownership of a gaming machine or part of a gaming machine cannot, at the time of its seizure under this section, be ascertained, the property seized shall be forfeit to the Crown and may be sold, destroyed or disposed of, as the Director thinks fit, after 90 days from the date of seizure if, within that time, it has not been possible after reasonable inquiry, to establish ownership of the property.
