- (1) If an asset, liability, instrument or right is affected by a transfer order, any relevant statutory register is taken to have been updated to record the effect of the transfer order when the transfer order had its effect.
- (2) If a statutory register is taken to have been updated under subsection (1), the relevant registrar:
 - (a) must in fact register the effect of the transfer order if requested in writing to do so by the purchaser or vendor; and

- (2) The relevant court officer:
 - (a) must register the effect of the transfer order if requested in writing to do so by a party to the proceedings or the vendor; and
 - (b) may register the effect of the transfer order even if no such request has been made.

then, on and after the relevant date, the thing is taken to have been done, or not done, by or in relation to the purchaser.

Examples for subsection (2)

- 1 If a person insured under a TIO insurance policy had lodged a claim with TIO the day before the insurance policy is transferred to the purchaser, then after the transfer the claim will be taken to have been lodged with the purchaser.
 - 2 If a law requires TIO to confirm the identity of a person who has applied to open a bank account and before the banking business is transferred to the purchaser TIO took steps to do so by sighting the person's passport and driver's licence, then after the business is transferred those steps will be taken to have been taken by the purchaser.
- (3) If a document that includes a reference to the vendor in connection with an affected thing was in existence before the relevant date, then on and after the relevant date, the reference is taken to be or include a reference to the purchaser, unless the context otherwise requires.
- (4) This section does not apply to the extent that the transfer order provides to the contrary.
- (5) In this section:

- (4) In relation to a remedial order:
 - (a) section 15(1)(a) does not apply; and
 - (b) sections 15 (other than subsection (1)(a)), 22 and 23 apply as if the references in those sections:
 - (i) to the vendor included references to the purchaser; and
 - (ii) to the purchaser included references to the vendor; and
 - (c) in addition to the matters mentioned in section 15(1), the order may make provision for any other matter in respect of which it is necessary or convenient for provision to be made to put any person affected by the initial order into the position the person would have been in had the error in the effect of the initial order not occurred.
- (5) The Minister cannot make a remedial order more than 12 months after the insurance sale date or banking sale date (as the case requires).
- (6) A remedial order may have retrospective operation to a day not earlier than the insurance sale date or banking sale date (as the case requires).
- (7) However, to the extent to which the order has retrospective operation, it does not operate to the disadvantage of a person (other than the purchaser or vendor) by:
 - (a) decreasing the person's rights; or
 - (b) imposing liabilities on the person.

- (8) For this section, there is an error in the effect of a transfer order if the order:

 - (ii) references in those sections to the purchaser were references to the vendor; and
 - (b) in addition to the matters mentioned in section 15(1), the order may make provision for any other matter in respect of which it is necessary or convenient for provision to be made to put any person affected by the initial order into the position the person would have been in had the initial order not been made.
- (4) The Minister cannot make a reversal order more than 14 days after the insurance sale date or banking sale date (as the case requires).

- (5) A reversal order has retrospective operation to the insurance sale date or banking sale date (as the case requires).
- (6) However, to the extent to which the order has retrospective operation, it does not operate to the disadvantage of a person (other than the purchaser or vendor) by:
 - (a) decreasing the person's rights; or
 - (b) imposing liabilities on the person.
