16 Application of Criminal Code

Part IIAA of the Criminal Code applies to an offence against this Act.

Notes for section 16

- 1 Part IIAA of the Criminal Code states the general principles of criminal responsibility, establishes general defences, and deals with burden of proof. It also defines, or elaborates on, certain concepts commonly used in the creation of offences.
- 2 Sections 43CA and 43CB of the Criminal Code provide for extraterritoriality in relation to offences.

Part 2 Principles of environment protection and management

Division 1 Principles of ecologically sustainable development

17 Principles of ecologically sustainable development

- (1) This Division sets out the principles of ecologically sustainable development.
- (2) A decision-maker must consider and apply these principles in making a decision under this Act.

- (3) In making a decision under this Act and stating the reasons for that decision, a decision-maker is not required to specify how the decision-maker has considered or applied these principles.

18 Decision-making principle

- (1) Decision-making processes should effectively integrate both long-term and short-term environmental and equitable considerations.
- (2) Decision-making processes should provide for community involvement in relation to decisions and actions that affect the community.

Note for section 18

See section 6, definition environment.

18A Principle of proportionality

Decision-making processes should ensure that decisions or actions directed at minimising harm or a risk of harm or impact to the environment are proportionate to the harm or risk of harm or impact that is being addressed.

19 Precautionary principle

- (1) If there are threats of serious or irreversible environmental damage, lack of full scientific certainty should not be used as a reason for postponing measures to prevent environmental degradation.
- (2) Decision-making should be guided by:
- (a) a careful evaluation to avoid serious or irreversible damage to the environment wherever practicable; and
 - (b) an assessment of the risk-weighted consequences of various options.

20 Principle of evidence-based decision-making

Decisions should be based on the best available evidence in the circumstances that is relevant and reliable.

21 Principle of intergenerational and intragenerational equity

The present generation should ensure that the health, diversity and productivity of the environment is maintained or enhanced for the benefit of present and future generations.

22 Principle of sustainable use

Natural resources should be used in a manner that is sustainable, prudent, rational, wise and appropriate.

23 Principle of conservation of biological diversity and ecological integrity

Biological diversity and ecological integrity should be conserved and maintained.

24 Principle of improved valuation, pricing and incentive mechanisms

- (1) Environmental factors should be included in the valuation of assets and services.
- (2) Persons who generate pollution and waste should bear the cost of containment, avoidance and abatement.
- (3) Users of goods and services should pay prices based on the full life cycle costs of providing the goods and services, including costs relating to the use of natural resources and the ultimate disposal of wastes.
- (4) Established environmental goals should be pursued in the most cost-effective way by establishing incentive structures, including market mechanisms, which enable persons best placed to maximise benefits or minimise costs to develop solutions and responses to environmental problems.

Division 2 Management hierarchies

25 Hierarchies

This Division sets out hierarchies for environmental decision-making and waste management.

26 Environmental decision-making hierarchy

- (1) In making decisions in relation to actions that affect the environment, decision-makers, proponents and approval holders must apply the following hierarchy of approaches in order of priority:
 - (a) ensure that actions are designed to avoid adverse impacts on the environment;
 - (b) identify management options to mitigate adverse impacts on the environment to the greatest extent practicable;

- (c) if appropriate, provide for environmental offsets in accordance with this Act for residual adverse impacts on the environment that cannot be avoided or mitigated.
- (2) In making decisions in relation to actions that affect the environment, decision-makers, proponents and approval holders must ensure that the potential for actions to enhance or restore environmental quality is identified and provided for to the extent practicable.

27 Waste management hierarchy

- (1) In designing, implementing and managing an action, all reasonable and practicable measures should be taken to minimise the generation of waste and its discharge into the environment.
- (2) For subsection (1), waste should be managed in accordance with the following hierarchy of approaches in order of priority:
 - (a) avoidance of the production of waste;
 - (b) minimisation of the production of waste;
 - (c) re-use of waste;
 - (d) recycling of waste;

Division 2 Specified environmental offences

270 Principles to be applied in imposing penalty for specified environmental offences

When imposing a penalty on a person (the offender) for a specified environmental offence, the court must consider the following to the extent that they are relevant:

- (a) any benefit or likely benefit obtained by the offender in committing the offence and the desirability of fixing a penalty that outweighs the benefit or potential benefit of the conduct;
- (b) the extent of the environmental harm caused, including whether the harm is long-term, irreversible or cumulative;
- (c) whether there is a need to deter cumulative impacts of conduct of this kind by the offender and others;
- (d) the extent of any efforts by the offender to minimise or remediate the environmental harm;
- (e) the extent to which the offender made efforts to comply with the environmental approval;
- (f) any history of non-compliance by the offender with this Act;
- (g) whether there was deliberate concealment of the conduct or of the illegal nature of the conduct;
- (h) any other matters the court considers relevant.

271 Additional court orders where specified environmental offence proved

- (1) If a person (the offender) is found guilty of a specified environmental offence, the court may, having regard to the nature of the offence and the circumstances of the offence, make any orders it considers appropriate including the following:
 - (a) an order that the offender must take specified measures within a specified time:
 - (i) to prevent the offence occurring again; or
 - (ii) to remediate any environmental harm resulting from the offence; or
 - (iii) to rehabilitate the environment as a result of any environmental harm resulting from the offence; or

- (iv) to enhance the environment in an area for public benefit;
 - (b) an order requiring the offender to compensate the CEO for the costs of taking any remedial or preventive action that was made necessary as a result of the act or omission that constituted the offence;
 - (c) an order directing the offender to pay to the CEO an amount that the court estimates will not exceed the financial, monetary or economic benefit that the offender or a person associated with the offender has gained or can reasonably be expected to gain as a result of the commission of the offence;
 - (d) an order directing the offender to pay an amount in compensation to any person who has suffered loss or damage as a result of the commission of the offence;
 - (e) an order requiring the offender to publicise the offence and the environmental consequences in a specified manner.
- (2) An order under this section is in addition to any other order that the court may make under this Act or the Sentencing Act 1995.

272 CEO may take measures if order not complied with

- (1) If the offender fails to take any measures specified by an order under section 271(1)(a), the CEO may take those measures.
- (2) The CEO may recover the reasonable costs of taking any measures under subsection (1) in a court of competent jurisdiction as a debt due to the Territory.
- (3) A debt mentioned in subsection (2) may be recorded under the Land Title Act 2000 as a charge on any land owned by the offender.
- (4) The CEO may, in writing, authorise another person to exercise a power or perform a function under subsection (1) or (2) on the CEO's behalf.
- (5) If a person is authorised to exercise a power or perform a function under subsection (4), anything done by the person in the exercise of the power or the performance of the function has the same effect as if it had been done by the CEO.
