Part I Preliminary

1 Short title

This Act may be cited as the Evidence Act.

2 Repeal

The Acts and Ordinances of South Australia specified in the First Schedule shall, to the extent therein expressed, cease to apply to the Northern Territory.

4 Definitions

In this Act, unless the contrary intention appears:

- (d) any film, negative, disc, tape or other device in which one or more visual images are embodied so as to be capable (with or without the aid of some other device) of being reproduced therefrom.

examined copy and examined extract mean, respectively, a copy or extract proved to have been examined with the original and to correspond therewith.

Judge includes the member or members of any Court.

legal proceeding or proceeding includes any action, trial, inquiry, cause or matter, whether civil or criminal, in which evidence is or may be given, and includes an arbitration.

person acting judicially includes any Court, and any officer in any public department having in the discharge of his duties authority to examine evidence.

statement includes any representation of fact or opinion, whether made in words or otherwise.

5 Application of act

The provisions of this Act shall, unless the contrary intention appears:

- (a) apply to every proceeding before any Court whatever; and
- (b) be in addition to, and not in derogation of, any rules of evidence, or any power, right or duty in relation to procedure or evidence, whether existing at common law or provided for by any law for the time being in force in the Territory.

Part II Witnesses

6 Witness not disqualified by interest or crime

No person shall be excluded from giving evidence in any proceeding on the ground:

- (a) that he has or may have an interest in the matter in question or in the event of the proceeding; or

- (b) that he has previously been found guilty of any crime or offence.

7 Parties, their wives and husbands compellable as witnesses in civil proceedings

In any proceeding (not being a criminal proceeding), any party thereto and any person on whose behalf the proceeding is brought or defended, and the husband or wife of any such party or person respectively, shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, be competent and compellable to give evidence on behalf of either or any of the parties to the proceeding.

8 Evidence as to adultery

- (1) A witness in any proceedings who, being a party, voluntarily gives evidence on his own behalf or, whether he is a party or not, is called by a party may be asked, and is bound to answer a question the answer to which may show, or tend to show, adultery by or with the witness where proof of that adultery would be material to the decision of the case.
- (2) Except as provided by subsection (1), a witness in proceedings (whether a party to the proceedings or not) is not liable to be asked, or bound to answer, a question the answer to which may show, or tend to show, that the witness has committed adultery.

9 Competency and compellability to give evidence in criminal proceedings

- (1) Every accused person in a criminal proceeding shall be competent, but, subject to this section, not compellable, to give evidence in the proceeding in every Court.
- (2) Any person charged with an indictable offence shall not be liable:
- (a) to be called as a witness on behalf of the prosecution; or
- (b) without the leave of the Judge, to be questioned on cross-examination as to his previous character or antecedents.
- (3) The failure of an accused person to give evidence, shall not be made the subject of any comment by the Judge or by counsel for the Crown.
- (4) Where 2 or more persons are being tried together before a Judge and jury, and comment is made, by or on behalf of any of them, upon the failure of any of them to give evidence, the Judge may make such observations to the jury in regard to the comment or failure to give evidence as he thinks fit.

- (5) The husband or wife of any accused person in a criminal proceeding shall be compellable to give evidence in the proceeding in every Court, either for the prosecution or for the defence, and without the consent of the accused.
- (6) A husband or wife shall be competent and compellable to disclose communications made, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, between the husband and the wife during the marriage.
- (7) An accused person who is called as a witness shall not be asked, and if asked, shall not be required to answer, any question tending to show that he has committed or been found guilty of or been charged with any offence other than that with which he is then charged, or is of bad character, unless:
 - (a) the proof that he has committed or been found guilty of such other offence is admissible evidence to show that he is guilty of the offence with which he is then charged; or
 - (b) he has personally or by his counsel asked questions of the witnesses for the prosecution with a view to establishing his own good character, or has given evidence of his good character, or the nature or conduct of the defence is such as to involve imputations on the character of the prosecutor or the witnesses for the prosecution; or
 - (c) he has given evidence against any other person charged with the same offence.

9C Particular form of corroboration warning not to be given

On the trial of a person for an offence in which evidence is given by a child, the Judge is not to warn the jury, or suggest to the jury in any way, that it is unsafe to convict on the uncorroborated evidence of that child because children are classified by the law as unreliable witnesses.

10 Incriminating questions

Nothing in this Act shall render any witness compellable to answer any question tending to criminate himself.

12 Communications to clergymen and medical men

- (1) A clergyman of any church or religious denomination shall not, without the consent of the person who made the confession, divulge in any proceeding any confession made to him in his professional character.

- (2) A medical practitioner shall not, without the consent of his patient, divulge in any civil proceeding (unless the sanity of the patient is the matter in dispute) any communication made to him in his professional character by the patient, and necessary to enable him to prescribe or act for the patient.
- (3) Nothing in this section shall protect any communication made for any criminal purpose, or prejudice the right to give in evidence any statement or representation at any time made to or by a medical practitioner in or about the effecting by any person of an insurance on the life of himself or any other person.

13 Vexatious and irrelevant questions in cross-examination may be disallowed

In any proceeding, the Court may disallow any question put in cross-examination of any party or other witness which appears to it to be vexatious and not relevant to any matter proper to be inquired into in the proceeding.

14 Disallowance of certain questions in cross-examination

- (1) If any question put to a witness upon cross-examination relates to a matter not relevant to the proceeding, except in so far as it affects the credit of the witness by injuring his character, the Court shall decide whether or not the witness shall be compelled to answer it, and the Court may, if it thinks fit, inform the witness that he is not obliged to answer it.
- (2) In exercising this discretion the Court shall have regard to the considerations referred to in section 15.

15 Relevancy in relation to the credibility of witnesses

In deciding whether any question affecting the credibility of a witness is relevant, or ought to be allowed, the Court shall have regard to the following considerations:

- (a) The question is proper if it is of such a nature that the truth of the imputation conveyed by it would seriously affect the opinion of the Court as to the credibility of the witness on the matter to which he testifies;
- (b) The question is improper if the imputation which it conveys relates to matters so remote in time, or of such a character, that the truth of the imputation would not affect, or would affect in a slight degree, the opinion of the Court as to the credibility of the witness on the matter to which he testifies;

- (c) The question is improper if there is a great disproportion between the importance of the imputation made against the witness's character and the importance of his evidence.

16 Disallowance of scandalous and insulting questions

The Court may disallow any question which it regards as:

- (a) indecent or scandalous, although the question may have some bearing on the case before the Court, unless the question relates to facts in issue, or to matters necessary to be known in order to determine whether or not the facts in issue existed; or
- (b) being intended to insult or annoy, or, although the question may be proper in itself, needlessly offensive in form.

17 Disallowed, &c., questions not to be published

A person shall not, without the express permission of the Court, print or publish any question which the Court has disallowed under section 13 or 16 or, under section 14(1), informed a witness that he is not required to answer.

Penalty: $5,000.

18 How far a party may discredit his own witness

A party producing a witness shall not be allowed to impeach his credit by general evidence of bad character, but he may, if the Court is of opinion that the witness is adverse:

- (a) contradict the witness by other evidence; or
- (b) by leave of the Court, prove that the witness has made at some other time, a statement inconsistent with his present testimony:

Provided that, before such proof is given, the circumstances of the supposed statement sufficient to designate the particular occasion shall be mentioned to the witness, and he shall be asked whether or not he made the statement.

19 Proof of contradictory statements of witness

If any witness, upon cross-examination as to a former statement made by him, relative to the subject-matter of the case before the Court, and inconsistent with his present testimony, does not distinctly admit that he made the statement, proof may be given that he did in fact make it; but, before such proof can be given, the circumstances of the supposed statement, sufficient to designate the particular occasion, shall be mentioned to the witness, and he shall be asked whether or not he has made the statement.

20 Cross-examination as to previous statements in writing

A witness may be cross-examined as to previous statements made by him in writing, or reduced into writing, (whether directly or by means of transcription from a record of the statements made by means of sound-recording apparatus or shorthand) relative to the subject-matter of the case before the Court, without the writing being shown to him, but, if it is intended to contradict the witness by the writing, his attention shall, before such contradictory proof can be given, be called to those parts of the writing which are to be used for the purpose of so contradicting him:

Provided that the Court may, at any time during the trial, require the writing to be produced for its inspection and the Court may thereupon make such use of it, for the purposes of the trial, as it thinks fit.

21 Non-appearance of witnesses

- (1) Where a person who has been served with a subpoena or summons to attend in any Court as a witness, or to produce documents, fails to appear when called at the trial or on the day appointed for the appearance or production, the Court may:
 - (a) on proof that he has been duly served with the subpoena or summons, issue a summons calling on him to show cause why the Court should not punish him for the failure as being a contempt of the Court; or
 - (b) on proof both that he has been duly served with the subpoena or summons and that his non-appearance is (so far as can be ascertained) without just cause or reasonable excuse, and, in the case of a person required to attend as a witness, on oath that he will probably be able to give material evidence, issue a warrant of arrest to bring him before the Court to give evidence or produce documents.
- (2) The proof referred to in subsection (1)(a) and (b) may be given orally or by affidavit.
- (3) A person present at any legal proceeding wherein he might have been compellable to give evidence and produce documents by virtue of a subpoena, summons or order duly issued and served for that purpose shall be compellable to give evidence and produce documents then in his possession and power in the same manner, and, in case of refusal, shall be subject to the same penalties and liabilities as if he had been duly subpoenaed or summoned for that purpose.

Part IIA Vulnerable witnesses

21A Evidence of vulnerable witnesses

(1) In this Part:

vulnerable witness means:

- (a) a witness who has not attained the age of 16 years;
- (b) a witness who suffers from an intellectual disability;
- (c) a witness who is the alleged victim of a sexual offence to which the proceedings relate; or
- (d) a witness who is, in the opinion of the Court, under a special disability because of the circumstances of the case, or the circumstances of the witness.

sexual offence means a sexual offence within the meaning of the Sexual Offences (Evidence and Procedure) Act.

(2) Where a vulnerable witness is to give or is giving evidence in any proceeding, the Court may, of its own motion, upon application made by a party to the proceeding or a vulnerable witness, make one or more of the following orders:

- (a) that the evidence of the vulnerable witness be given at a place outside the courtroom and transmitted to the courtroom by means of closed circuit television;
- (b) that a screen, partition or one-way glass be placed to obscure the witness's view of a party to whom the evidence relates but not so as to obstruct the view of the witness by the magistrate or the judge and jury;
- (c) that the vulnerable witness be accompanied by a relative or friend for the purpose of providing emotional support;
- (d) that the Court be closed while evidence is being given by the vulnerable witness in the proceeding (including evidence given under cross-examination) and that no persons remain in or enter a room or place in which the Court is being held, or remain within the hearing of the Court, without its permission.

- (3) Where an order is made under subsection (2)(a) or (b), the judge, at a trial by jury, shall cause a warning to be issued to the jury to the effect that:
 - (a) the procedure is a routine practice of the Court;
 - (b) no adverse inference is to be drawn against the accused as a result of the issue of these orders; and
 - (c) the evidence of the witness is not to be given any greater or lesser weight because of the use of such orders.
- (4) Where an order is made under subsection (2)(c), the relative or friend accompanying the vulnerable witness shall be visible to the parties, the Court and (at a trial by jury) the jury while the witness is giving evidence.
- (5) Notwithstanding anything contained in subsection (2)(d), where the defendant has not or apparently has not attained the age of 16 years, the Court shall not make an order causing persons to be excluded from the Court or place where the examination is being taken, where those persons are required or permitted under the Juvenile Justice Act to be present.
- (6) An order under this section may be made, varied or revoked on the Court's own initiative or on the application of a party or witness.

21B Child witnesses

- (1) Where a vulnerable witness in a proceeding is a child who has not attained the age of 16 years, the judge or magistrate may disallow any question put to the witness in the proceeding that is confusing, misleading or phrased in inappropriate language.
- (2) In deciding whether to disallow a question in accordance with subsection (1) the Court shall have regard to the age, culture and level of understanding of the child.

21C Use of closed circuit television

- (1) An order made under section 21A(2)(a), that evidence be given by closed circuit television, may include, but is not limited to, one or more of the following provisions:
 - (a) who may be present at that other place with the vulnerable witness;
 - (b) who in the courtroom is able to, or not able to, be heard, or to be seen and heard by the vulnerable witness;

- (c) who in the courtroom is able to see and hear the vulnerable witness.
- (2) The place at which a vulnerable witness gives evidence pursuant to an order under section 21A(2)(a) shall be deemed to be part of the Court in which the proceeding is being held.

Part III Miscellaneous rules of evidence

22 Comparison of disputed writing or signature

Where any writing or signature is in dispute, the writing or signature may be compared with any other writing or signature proved to the satisfaction of the Court to be genuine; and such last-mentioned writing or signature, together with evidence of witnesses in relation thereto, shall be evidence of the genuineness or otherwise of the writing or signature in dispute.

23 Attesting witness need not be called in certain cases

It shall not be necessary to prove by the attesting witness any instrument to the validity of which attestation is not requisite, and the instrument may be proved by admission or otherwise as if there had been no attesting witness thereto.

25 Discovery in defamation actions

In an action for damages arising out of the publication of matter alleged to be defamatory and upon any application for discovery as to any matter relating to the fact of publication as alleged, the defendant shall not be entitled to object to answer upon the ground of tendency to criminate, but shall be compellable to make discovery, unless it appears that there is a reasonable probability of criminal proceedings being instituted against him:

Provided that such discovery shall not be made use of as evidence or otherwise in any other action or proceedings against the defendant.

26A Proof of commission of offence

- (1) Subject to subsection (2) where a person has been found guilty of an offence, and the commission of that offence is in issue or relevant to any issue in a civil proceeding, the finding of guilt shall be evidence of the commission of that offence admissible against the person found guilty or those who claim through or under him but not otherwise.

- (2) A finding of guilt other than upon information in the Supreme Court shall not be admissible unless it appears to the Court that the admission is in the interests of justice.

26C Evidence of rape, &c.

- (1) In any proceedings:
- (a) evidence that a person, being a party to a marriage, was, after the marriage, found guilty, whether in Australia or elsewhere, of the crime or offence of rape or any other crime or offence in which sexual intercourse with a person of the opposite sex is an element is evidence that the former person committed adultery with the person on whom the rape or other crime or offence was committed; and
 - (b) evidence that a person, being a party to a marriage, was, after the marriage, found guilty, whether in Australia or elsewhere, of the crime or offence of sodomy or bestiality is evidence that that person committed sodomy or bestiality.
- (2) In any proceedings, a certificate of the finding of guilt of a person for a crime or offence, on a date specified in the certificate, by a Court of a State or Territory or of any place outside Australia, being a certificate purporting to be signed by the registrar or other appropriate officer of the Court, is evidence of the fact and date of the finding of guilt and, if the certificate shows that a sentence of imprisonment was imposed, of the fact that that sentence was imposed.

26D Admissibility of documentary evidence as to facts in issue

- (1) In any civil proceedings where direct oral evidence of a fact would be admissible, a statement made by a person in a document and tending to establish that fact shall, on production of the original document, be admissible as evidence of the fact if the following conditions are satisfied, that is to say:
- (a) if the maker of the statement either:
 - (i) had personal knowledge of the matters dealt with by the statement; or
 - (ii) where the document in question is or forms part of a record purporting to be a continuous record, made the statement (in so far as the matters dealt with thereby are not within his personal knowledge) in the performance of a duty to record information supplied to him by a person who had, or might reasonably be supposed to have, personal knowledge of those matters; and

- (b) if the maker of the statement is called as a witness in the proceedings, but the condition that the maker of the statement shall be called as a witness need not be satisfied if he is dead, or unfit by reason of his bodily or mental condition to attend as a witness, or it is not reasonably practicable to secure his attendance, or if all reasonable efforts to find him have been made without success.

- (2) In any civil proceedings, the Court may at any stage of the proceedings, if having regard to all the circumstances of the case it is satisfied that undue delay or expense would otherwise be caused, order that such a statement as is mentioned in subsection (1) shall be admissible as evidence or may, without any such order having been made, admit such a statement in evidence:

- (a) notwithstanding that the maker of the statement is available but is not called as a witness; and

- (b) notwithstanding that the original document is not produced, if in lieu thereof there is produced a copy of the original document or of the material part thereof certified to be a true copy in such manner as may be specified in the order or as the Court may approve, as the case may be.

- (3) Nothing in this section shall render admissible as evidence any statement made by a person interested at a time when proceedings were pending or anticipated involving a dispute as to any fact which the statement might tend to establish.

- (4) For the purposes of this section, a statement in a document shall not be deemed to have been made by a person unless the document or the material part of the document was written, made or produced by him with his own hand, or was signed or initialled by him or otherwise recognized by him in writing as one for the accuracy of which he is responsible.

- (5) For the purpose of deciding whether or not a statement is admissible as evidence by virtue of the foregoing provisions, the Court may draw any reasonable inference from the contents of the document in which the statement is contained, or from any other circumstances, and may, in deciding whether or not a person is fit to attend as a witness, act on a certificate purporting to be the certificate of a legally qualified medical practitioner and where the proceedings are with a jury, the Court may in its discretion reject the statement notwithstanding that the requirements of this section are satisfied with respect to the statement, if for any reason it appears to it to be inexpedient in the interests of justice that the statement should be admitted.

26F Weight to be attached to evidence

- (1) In estimating the weight, if any, to be attached to a statement rendered admissible as evidence by this Act, regard shall be had to all the circumstances from which any inference can reasonably be drawn as to the accuracy or otherwise of the statement, and in particular to the question whether or not the statement made contemporaneously with the occurrence or existence of the facts stated, and to the question whether or not the maker of the statement had any incentive to conceal or misrepresent facts.
- (2) For the purpose of any rule of law or practice requiring evidence to be corroborated or regulating the manner in which uncorroborated evidence is to be treated, a statement rendered admissible as evidence by this Act shall not be treated as corroboration of evidence given by the maker of the statement.

26G Proof of instrument to validity of which attestation is necessary

Subject to this Act, in any proceedings, an instrument to the validity of which attestation is requisite may, instead of being proved by an attesting witness, be proved in the manner in which it might be proved if no attesting witness were alive; but nothing in this section shall apply to the proof of wills or other testamentary documents.

26H Presumptions as to documents 20 years old

In any proceedings, there shall, in the case of a document proved, or purporting to be not less than 20 years old, be made any presumption which immediately before the commencement of this Act would have been made in the case of a document of like character proved, or purporting, to be not less than 30 years old.

26L Determination of admissibility before jury empanelled

A court dealing with a matter on indictment may, if it thinks fit, hear and determine, before the jury is empanelled, any question relating to the admissibility of evidence and any question of law affecting the conduct of the trial.

Part IV Public Acts and documents27 Acts of State

- (2) Any document referred to in subsection (1) which purports to be sealed or signed in accordance with the provisions of that subsection shall be admissible without proof of the seal or of the signature, as the case may be.
