- (4) Where a court is satisfied that an offender is in breach of a community work order, the court may, whether or not the order is in force at the time the offender appears before the court, order that the offender be imprisoned for such term as would equal one day of imprisonment for each 8 hours or part thereof of the approved project that the offender failed to participate in under the order or for 7 days, whichever is the greater.
- (5) For the purpose of determining the number of hours under subsection (4), the court may hear evidence from a probation officer or such other person as it thinks fit.

- (8) Where a community work order is made in respect of more than one offence and a court is satisfied that the offender is in breach of the order, the court shall deal with the offender under this section for all the offences in respect of which the order was made.

- (5) The sentencing court may refuse to fix a non-parole period if satisfied the level of culpability in the commission of the offence is so extreme the community interest in retribution, punishment, protection and deterrence can only be met if the offender is imprisoned for the term of his or her natural life without the possibility of release on parole.

- (10) The failure of the sentencing court to comply with this section when fixing, or refusing to fix, a non-parole period does not invalidate the sentence imposed on the offender.
- (11) This section applies only in relation to an offence committed:
- (a) after the commencement of the Sentencing (Crime of Murder) and Parole Reform Act 2003; or
 - (b) before the commencement of that Act if, at that commencement, the offender has not been sentenced for the offence.

in which the sentencing court might have done so.

- (2) A court may fix a non-parole period under section 53(1) in respect of a term of imprisonment being served by an offender who, at the commencement of this subsection, is serving a sentence of imprisonment to which that subsection applies in respect of which a non-parole period had not been fixed.

- (2) The new single non-parole period fixed at the time of the imposition of the further sentence:
 - (a) supersedes any previous non-parole period that the offender is to serve or complete;

109 Sentence by another judge or magistrate

- (1) Subsection (2) applies where, on the trial of an offence:
- (a) a verdict of guilty has been found or a plea of guilty has been received but no judgment or sentence has been given or passed on it; and
 - (b) the judge or magistrate who presided at the trial or received the plea (as the case requires) goes out of office or it appears to be probable that because of incapacitating illness or other serious cause he or she will be unable to give judgment or pass sentence within a reasonable time.

- (2) Where this subsection applies, any other judge or magistrate (as the case requires) may in open court take (if necessary) all steps preliminary to the giving of judgment or the passing of sentence and may give judgment or pass sentence.
- (3) In all cases where it is possible so to do, the judge or magistrate referred to in subsection (1)(b) shall be consulted before judgment is given or sentence is passed under subsection (2).
- (4) Non-compliance with subsection (3) does not affect the validity of the judgment or sentence.
- (5) The question whether it appears probable that a judge or magistrate will be unable for the reasons referred to in subsection (1)(b) to give judgment or pass sentence within a reasonable time shall be decided by the Chief Justice or the Chief Magistrate (as the case requires) and his or her decision is not liable to be challenged on any ground whatsoever.
- (6) Where, on the trial of an offence:
 - (a) a verdict of guilty has been found or a plea of guilty has been received; and
 - (b) all steps preliminary to the giving of judgment or the passing of sentence have been taken but no judgment or sentence has been given or passed, any other judge or magistrate (as the case requires) may give the judgment or pass the sentence determined by the judge or magistrate who presided at the trial or received the plea (as the case requires).

- (7) A judgment given or sentence passed under subsection (2) or (6) has for all purposes the same effects and consequences as if it had been given or passed by the judge or magistrate who presided at the trial or received the plea (as the case requires).
- (8) This section does not take away from any power of a judge or magistrate under statute or at common law.

110 Sentences not invalidated by failure to comply with procedural requirements

- (1) The failure of a court to give reasons or to comply with any other procedural requirement contained in this Act in sentencing an offender does not invalidate any sentence imposed by it.

- (2) Nothing in subsection (1) prevents a court on an appeal against sentence from reviewing a sentence imposed by a court in circumstances where there has been a failure that is referred to in that subsection.

Part 7 Correction of sentences

111 Correction of sentences by Supreme Court

- (1) Where:
- (a) a person has been sentenced (whether at first instance or on appeal) by a court (including the Supreme Court) for an offence; or
 - (b) the sentencing court was the Court of Summary Jurisdiction, application is made to the Supreme Court for relief or remedy in the nature of certiorari to remove the proceeding into the Supreme Court, and the Supreme Court determines that the sentence imposed was beyond the power of the sentencing court or its own power, if it was the sentencing court, it may, instead of quashing the sentence, amend the sentence by substituting for the sentence imposed a sentence which the sentencing court had power to impose.

- (2) Unless the Supreme Court otherwise directs, a sentence of imprisonment imposed by it under subsection (1) commences on the day on which the sentence imposed in the earlier proceeding purported to take effect but in calculating the term to be served under the sentence any time during which the offender was at large (whether on bail or otherwise) shall be disregarded.
- (3) Subsections (1) and (2) extend and apply, with necessary changes, to any order made on, but not forming part of, the sentence of an offender as if reference in those subsections to a sentence included a reference to such an order.

112 Court may reopen proceeding to correct sentencing errors

- (1) Where a court has in, or in connection with, criminal proceedings (including a proceeding on appeal):
- (a) imposed a sentence that is not in accordance with the law; or
 - (b) failed to impose a sentence that the court legally should have imposed, the court (whether or not differently constituted) may reopen the proceedings unless it considers the matter should more appropriately be dealt with by a proceeding on appeal.

- (2) Where a court reopens proceedings, it:
 - (a) shall give the parties an opportunity to be heard;
 - (b) may impose a sentence that is in accordance with the law; and
 - (c) may amend any relevant conviction or order to the extent necessary to take into account the sentence imposed under paragraph (b).
- (3) A court may reopen proceedings:
 - (a) on its own initiative at any time; or
 - (b) on the application of a party to the proceedings made not later than:
 - (i) 28 days after the day the sentence was imposed; or
 - (ii) such further time as the court allows.
- (4) An application for leave to make an application under subsection (3)(b)(ii) may be made at any time.
- (5) Subject to subsection (6), this section does not affect any right of appeal.
- (6) For the purposes of an appeal under any Act against a sentence imposed under subsection (3)(b), the time within which the appeal must be made starts from the day the sentence is imposed under subsection (2)(b).
- (7) This section applies to a sentence imposed, or required to be imposed, whether before or after the commencement of this section.

Part 8 Appeals against sentence imposed on variation or breach

113 Appeal against sentence imposed on variation or breach

A person sentenced by a court in a proceeding for variation or breach of a sentencing order has a right of appeal against sentence as if:

- (a) the court had immediately before imposing it found the person guilty, or convicted the person, of the offence in respect of which the sentencing order was originally made; and
- (b) the sentence was a sentence imposed on that finding of guilt or conviction.

Part 9 Remission of sentence

114 Remission of sentence by Administrator

- (1) In this section, remission order means an order made under subsection (2).
- (2) The Administrator may, by writing under his or her hand, order the remission, with or without conditions, of a sentence of imprisonment under, or in respect of an offence against, a law of the Territory.
- (3) The Administrator may, by writing under his or her hand:
 - (a) vary or revoke the conditions to which a remission order is subject;

- (5) Where information is laid before a Justice alleging that a remission order has been:
- (a) revoked; or
 - (b) contravened or a condition to which the remission order is subject has not been complied with,
- the Justice may issue a warrant for the arrest of the person released under the remission order.
- (6) A Justice shall not issue a warrant under subsection (5) unless:
- (a) the informant and any other person furnishing information required by the Justice concerning the issue of the warrant furnishes the information on oath; and
 - (b) the Justice is satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for issuing the warrant.
- (7) Where a person has been arrested under subsection (4)(a) or (5)(a), the person shall, as soon as practicable, be brought before a magistrate and the magistrate shall, if satisfied that the remission order has been revoked, issue a warrant for the commitment of the person to prison to serve the part of the term of imprisonment that the person had not served at the time the remission order was made.
- (8) Where a person has been arrested in accordance with subsection (4)(b) or (5)(b), the person shall, as soon as practicable, be brought before a magistrate and, if the magistrate is satisfied that the person brought before him or her has, without lawful excuse, contravened, or failed to comply with a condition of, the remission order, the magistrate may revoke the remission order.
- (9) A person brought before a magistrate in accordance with subsection (7) or (8) shall, unless the magistrate determines otherwise, be kept in custody until the magistrate has determined the matter.
- (10) Where, under subsection (8), a remission order is revoked in respect of a person who was serving a term of imprisonment at the time that the remission order was made, the magistrate may issue a warrant for the commitment of the person to prison to serve the part of the term of imprisonment that the person had not served at the time that the remission order was made.

- (11) Where a magistrate acting in accordance with subsection (8) revokes a remission order, the person in respect of whom the remission order was made may appeal to the Supreme Court against the revocation, and the Supreme Court shall, if it is:
- (a) satisfied that the grounds under which the remission order was revoked have been established – confirm the revocation; or
 - (b) not so satisfied – order that the revocation cease to have effect.
- (12) Division 2 of Part VI of the Justices Act applies to and in relation to an appeal made under subsection (11).

Part 10 Prerogative of mercy

115 Release by Administrator in exercise of prerogative of mercy

- (1) The Administrator may, in any case in which he or she is authorised on behalf of Her Majesty to extend mercy to any person under sentence of imprisonment, do so by directing that the person be released, even before the end of a non-parole period:
- (a) on giving an undertaking; or
 - (b) on parole under and subject to the Parole of Prisoners Act.
- (2) An undertaking under subsection (1)(a):
- (a) shall have as a condition that the person be of good behaviour;
 - (b) may have as a condition that the person be under the supervision of an employee employed in the Agency responsible under the Minister for the administration of the Prisons (Correctional Services) Act; and
 - (c) may have any other condition that the Administrator considers to be in the interests of the person or the community.
- (3) The period of an undertaking under subsection (1)(a) is the period fixed by the Administrator, which shall be not less than the unexpired term of the original sentence.
- (4) A person who gives an undertaking under subsection (1)(a) shall be released from custody.

- (4A) A member of the Police Force who suspects, on reasonable grounds, that a person who gave an undertaking under subsection (1)(a) has breached a condition of the undertaking may, without warrant, arrest the person.
- (4B) For the purposes of the application of sections 137 and 138 of the Police Administration Act, a breach of a condition of an undertaking given under subsection (1)(a) is to be taken to be an offence.
- (5) Where, at any time during the period of an undertaking under subsection (1)(a), the Court of Summary Jurisdiction is satisfied by evidence on oath or by affidavit or by the admission of the person who gave the undertaking that that person has failed without reasonable excuse to comply with any condition of the undertaking it may impose a fine not exceeding $1,000 and direct that the person be committed to prison for the unexpired term of the original sentence.
- (6) Except with the consent of the person who gave the undertaking, the Court of Summary Jurisdiction shall not deal with the person under subsection (5) unless the person has been served with a notice to attend on the hearing of the proceeding.
- (7) The Court of Summary Jurisdiction may order that a warrant to arrest be issued against a person who gave an undertaking if he or she does not attend before the Court on the hearing of the proceeding under subsection (5).
- (8) A registrar of the Court of Summary Jurisdiction may sign any warrant that may be necessary for the purpose of subsection (5) and the period of imprisonment after committal begins on the day of the committal, if the person is then before the Court, and if not, on the day of his or her subsequent arrest.
- (9) A person who gives an undertaking under subsection (1)(a) is discharged from the original sentence at the end of the period of the undertaking if an order has not been made under subsection (5).
- (10) If the Court of Summary Jurisdiction recommits a person to prison under this section, the Prisons (Correctional Services) Act applies as if the person had just been convicted by the Court and sentenced to be imprisoned for a term equal to the unexpired term of the original sentence.
- (11) A fine imposed under this section shall be taken for all purposes to be a fine payable on a conviction of an offence.

116 Penalties for offences may be remitted

The Administrator may:

- (a) remit in whole or in part any sum of money which is imposed under any Act as a penalty or forfeiture; and
- (b) order the discharge from prison of any person who is imprisoned for non-payment of any sum of money so imposed, although the sum is in whole or in part payable to a party other than the Crown.

Part 11 Miscellaneous117 Offender to be present when sentence imposed

- (1) A court shall not make an order under Part 3 unless the offender in respect of whom the order is to be made is before the court.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to:
 - (a) an order imposing a fine under section 16; or
 - (b) an order made on the hearing of an appeal.

118 Fine in addition to or instead of imprisonment

An offence against an Act or an instrument of a legislative or administrative character that is punishable by a term of imprisonment (other than life) is, unless the contrary intention appears, punishable, in addition to or instead of imprisonment, by a maximum fine that is equal to the product obtained by multiplying 50 penalty units or, in the case of a body corporate, 250 penalty units by the term of imprisonment expressed in years or a fraction of a year, where the term of imprisonment is less than 12 months.

119 Location and effect of penalty provisions

A penalty set out at the foot of a provision of an Act or an instrument of a legislative or administrative character shall, unless the context otherwise requires, be construed as indicating that a contravention (whether by act or omission) of the provision is an offence against the Act or instrument punishable on a finding of guilt by a penalty not exceeding that set out.

120 Lesser sentence may be imposed

Subject to anything to the contrary in this or any other Act, a court may, as it thinks fit in sentencing an offender, impose a shorter term of imprisonment or a lesser amount as a fine than that prescribed.

121 Effect of alterations in penalties

- (1) Where an Act, including this Act, or an instrument of a legislative or administrative character increases the penalty or the maximum or minimum penalty for an offence, the increase applies only to an offence committed after the commencement of the provision effecting the increase.
- (2) Where an Act, including this Act, or an instrument of a legislative or administrative character reduces the penalty or the maximum or minimum penalty for an offence, the reduction extends to an offence committed before the commencement of the provision effecting the reduction for which no penalty had been imposed at that commencement.

122 Jurisdiction of Court of Summary Jurisdiction

Where the Court of Summary Jurisdiction has jurisdiction under an Act to hear and determine a crime in a summary manner, the court shall not impose on the person found guilty of the crime a sentence of imprisonment of more than 5 years or a fine greater than 250 penalty units.

123 Old offences relevant in determining previous convictions

- (1) A finding of guilt or conviction of an old offence counts as a finding of guilt or conviction of a new offence for the purpose of determining whether or not a person has previously been found guilty or convicted of the new offence.
- (2) For the purposes of this section:
 - (a) an old offence is an offence under a repealed statutory provision which is constituted by the same acts, omissions, matters, circumstances or things as an offence (the new offence) under an Act or an instrument of a legislative or administrative character which substantially re-enacts (whether in the same language or not) the repealed statutory provision; and
 - (b) a repealed statutory provision is an Act or a provision of an Act that has been repealed or an instrument of a legislative or administrative character or a provision of such an instrument that has been repealed or revoked.

(3) This section applies even where the new offence differs from the old offence in:

- (a) its penalty;
- (b) the procedure applicable to its prosecution;
- (c) its classification; or
- (d) its name,

unless a contrary intention appears in the Act or the instrument of a legislative or administrative character that creates the new offence.

124 Abolition of common law bonds

A court does not have jurisdiction to release an offender on a recognisance or bond to be of good behaviour and to appear for sentence when called on.

125 Procedural rules and regulations

The power to make rules under the Supreme Court Act and to make regulations under the Justices Act extends to and applies in relation to the making of rules or regulations (as the case requires) for and with respect to the manner of making applications under this Act, court procedures and proceedings, the functions of a proper officer of the court and all other matters relating to the functions of a court under this Act.

126 Facilitation of proof

Where an offender is before a court to be dealt with for a breach of a sentencing order made under this Act:

- (a) an averment of the prosecutor that the offender is the person in respect of whom the order was made is evidence of the matter so averred; and
- (b) on the averring of the fact referred to in paragraph (a), the offender may be asked by the court whether the person was convicted of the offence or offences in respect of which the order was made and, if the person admits the conviction or convictions, no further proof of the conviction or convictions is necessary.

127 Service of documents, &c.

Subject to this Act, a document required to be given to or served on a person under this Act may be given to or served on the person:

- (a) by delivering it to the person; or
- (b) by leaving it at the person's last-known or most usual place of residence or business with some other person who is apparently over the age of 16 years and living or working there.

128 Regulations

- (1) The Administrator may make regulations, not inconsistent with this Act, prescribing all matters:
 - (a) required or permitted by this Act to be prescribed; or
 - (b) necessary or convenient to be prescribed for carrying out or giving effect to this Act.
- (2) The Regulations may:
 - (a) be of general or limited application;
 - (b) confer a discretionary authority or impose a duty on a specified person or a specified class of person;

The Acts and Ordinances specified in Schedule 4 are repealed.

130 Savings and transitional

- (1) This Act applies to a sentence imposed after the commencement of this section, irrespective of when the offence was committed.
- (2) Where, immediately before the commencement of this section, an order under the Criminal Law (Conditional Release of Offenders) Act or a sentence was in force in respect of a person, the person continues to be subject to the requirements of the order or sentence in all respects as if this Act has not commenced but the order or sentence may be cancelled or varied and any failure to comply with it may be dealt with under this Act (whether or not, in the case of an order, the order is still in force) as if it were made or imposed after the commencement of this section.

- (3) Where, immediately before the commencement of this section, a declaration under section 397 or a direction under section 401 of the Criminal Code detaining a person at the Administrator's pleasure was in force, the person continues to be subject to the requirements of the declaration or direction in all respects, and the declaration or direction shall be subject to, and the person may be dealt with under, the Criminal Code or section 8A of the Criminal Law (Conditional Release of Offenders) Act as in force before that commencement, as if this Act had not commenced.
- (4) The Regulations may contain provisions of a savings or transitional nature consequent on the commencement of the various provisions of this Act.
- (5) For the purposes of this section, an order made or imposed by an appellate court after the commencement of this section on setting aside an order made or a sentence imposed before that commencement shall be taken to have been made or imposed at the time the original order was made or the sentence imposed.
