 - (a) the defendant applies under section 105G or 105J(9)(b) for leave to cross-examine; and
 - (b) the Justice grants leave under this section.
- (2) If the prosecutor consents to leave being granted, the Justice must grant leave unless satisfied it would not be in the interests of justice to do so.
- (3) If the prosecutor does not consent to leave being granted, the Justice must not grant leave unless satisfied:
 - (a) the defendant:
 - (i) has identified an issue to which the proposed cross-examination relates; and
 - (ii) has provided a reason why the evidence of the witness is relevant to that issue; and

- (b) cross-examination of the witness on that issue is justified having regard to the matters mentioned in subsections (4) and (5).
- (4) In determining whether cross-examination is justified, the Justice must have regard to the need to ensure that:
 - (a) the prosecution case is adequately disclosed; and
 - (b) the issues are adequately defined; and
 - (c) the evidence is sufficient to put the defendant on trial for any indictable offence; and
 - (d) a fair trial will take place if the matter proceeds to trial, including that the defendant will be able adequately to prepare and present a defence; and
 - (e) any matters relevant to a potential plea of guilty are clarified; and
 - (f) any matters relevant to a potential discontinuance of prosecution are clarified; and
 - (g) trivial, vexatious or oppressive cross-examination is not permitted; and
 - (h) any mental, intellectual or physical disability to which the witness is or appears to be subject and of which the Justice is aware is taken into consideration; and
 - (i) the interests of justice are otherwise served.
- (5) If the witness is a child, the Justice must also have regard to:
 - (a) the need to minimise the trauma that might be experienced by the witness in giving evidence; and
 - (b) any relevant condition or characteristic of the witness, including age, culture, personality, education and level of understanding; and
 - (c) the importance of the witness to the case for the prosecution; and
 - (d) the existence or lack of evidence that corroborates the proposed evidence of the witness; and
 - (e) the extent of any proposed admissions; and
 - (f) the probative value of the proposed evidence of the witness;

and

- (g) the issues in dispute; and
 - (h) the weight of the proposed evidence of the witness; and
 - (i) any statements of other witnesses that contradict the proposed evidence of the witness.
- (6) If leave to cross-examine a witness is granted, the witness must attend at the time and place fixed for the giving of evidence by the witness.
- (7) If a witness does not attend a preliminary examination when required to do so:
- (a) the Justice may continue the preliminary examination in the absence of the witness; but
 - (b) the witness' handed-up witness statement is then inadmissible as evidence in the preliminary examination.

105J Prosecution evidence

- (1) A handed-up witness statement must be admitted at the preliminary examination as the evidence-in-chief of the witness as if the witness had appeared before the Justice and given evidence orally.
- (2) If a handed-up witness statement is admitted under subsection (1), any listed exhibit mentioned in the statement must be admitted as if it had been mentioned by the witness while giving evidence orally.
- (3) Subsections (1) and (2) apply:
 - (a) on proof of service of the handed-up witness statement; and
 - (b) subject to subsections (4) and (5) and section 105H(7)(b).
- (4) The Justice may refuse to admit all or any part of a handed-up witness statement or a listed exhibit in accordance with any applicable rules of evidence.
- (5) The Justice may refuse to admit a recorded handed-up witness statement or a listed exhibit if satisfied section 105F(5) has not been complied with.
- (6) The Justice may grant leave to the prosecution for a listed witness to give oral evidence-in-chief supplementary to his or her handed-up witness statement if satisfied it is in the interests of justice to do so.

- (7) The Justice may grant leave to the prosecution for a person who is not a listed witness to give evidence if satisfied it is in the interests of justice to do so.
- (8) A witness for whom leave is granted under subsection (7) is to give the whole of his or her evidence-in-chief orally.
- (9) If leave is granted under subsection (6) or (7):
 - (a) the witness must attend at the time and place fixed for the giving of evidence by the witness; and
 - (b) the defendant may apply for leave to cross-examine the witness.

105K Cross-examination of witness

- (1) If leave to cross-examine a listed witness is granted, the evidence-in-chief of the witness at the preliminary examination must be confined to the witness:
 - (a) identifying himself or herself; and
 - (b) attesting to the truthfulness of his or her handed-up witness statement.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to a witness if leave is granted under section 105J(6) or (7) for the witness.
- (3) A defendant who is granted leave to cross-examine a witness is not limited to cross-examining the witness on the issue for which leave was granted.
- (4) However, the Justice may disallow any question asked during the cross-examination if it appears to the Justice that:
 - (a) the defendant has not:
 - (i) identified an issue to which the question relates; and
 - (ii) provided a reason why the evidence of the witness is relevant to that issue; or
 - (b) the question is not justified having regard to the matters mentioned in section 105H(4) and (5).
- (5) A witness cross-examined by the defendant may be re-examined by the prosecutor.
- (6) This section does not limit any other power the Justice may have to disallow a question asked of a witness.

105L Protected witness cannot be called or examined

- (1) Despite any other provisions of this Act, a protected witness:
- (a) is not required to attend a preliminary examination; and
 - (b) cannot be examined or cross-examined at a preliminary examination.

- (2) If the defendant pleads guilty to such an offence:
- (a) the Magistrate shall, in relation to that offence, be the Court of Summary Jurisdiction within the meaning of this Act; and

 - (c) sections 130A, 131, 132 and 133 shall, so far as they are applicable, apply in respect of the offence,
- but the plea of guilty may be withdrawn as provided in subsection (3).

- (3) If after the defendant has so pleaded guilty to an offence, the Magistrate, on consideration of any facts stated by the prosecution or given in evidence, is of the opinion that the time for taking the plea should be postponed, the Magistrate may order that the plea of guilty be withdrawn and thereupon all further proceedings in respect of the offence are to be conducted in accordance with this Part; but if any such further proceedings are taken the defendant is not, by reason of his or her plea of guilty, entitled to plead autrefois convict.

107 Place where examination taken not to be deemed an open court, and no person to remain without consent

The room or building in which the examination is taken shall not be deemed an open court for that purpose, and the Justice may, if it appears to him that the ends of justice will be best answered by so doing, order that no person shall have access to or be or remain in the room or building without his consent or permission: Provided that nothing herein contained shall authorise the exclusion of any counsel or solicitor for either party.

 - (d) the defendant may call other witnesses to give evidence on oath in his or her defence, but is not required to do so.
- (2) A Justice need not give the explanation required by subsection (1) if the defendant is represented by a legal practitioner and the Justice is satisfied the matters mentioned in subsection (1) have been adequately explained to the defendant by the legal practitioner.
- (3) After giving the explanation required by subsection (1), or dispensing with it under subsection (2), the Justice must give the defendant the opportunity to give evidence and call any witnesses.
- (4) If the defendant chooses to give evidence, he or she is to give his or her evidence-in-chief on oath and may be:

- (2) If, in the opinion of the Justice, it is not so sufficient, he shall forthwith order the defendant, if in custody, to be discharged as to the information then under inquiry.
- (3) If, in the opinion of the Justice, the evidence is sufficient, he shall:

- (5) The warrant for keeping the defendant in custody pursuant to any such order may be issued by the Justice who made the order, or any other Justice.

The Justice who remanded the defendant or any other Justice may, notwithstanding that the defendant has been remanded, order the defendant to be brought before him or any other Justice, at any time before the expiration of the period for which the defendant has been remanded, and any keeper of the gaol or officer in whose custody the defendant is shall duly obey the order.

If any witness refuses to enter into or acknowledge the recognisance the Justice may, by his warrant, commit the witness to the gaol nearest to the place in which the defendant is to be tried, there to be imprisoned and safely kept until after the trial of the defendant, unless in the meantime the witness duly enters into and acknowledges the recognisance before some Justice; but if afterwards, from want of sufficient evidence in that behalf, or other cause, the Justice before whom the defendant is brought does not commit him or hold him to bail for the offence with which he is charged, any Justice may order and direct the keeper of the gaol to discharge any such witness from custody, and he shall be discharged accordingly.

 - (a) it appears to it that that evidence is likely to be credible and would have been admissible in the proceedings from which the appeal lies on an issue which is the subject of the appeal; and
 - (b) it is satisfied that that evidence was not adduced in those proceedings and there is a reasonable explanation for the failure to adduce it; and
