regulation 4(6)

NOTICE OF RESTRAINING ORDER

To: [name]

of: [address]

I, _____, a *member of the Police Force of the Northern Territory / *person authorised by the Director of Public Prosecutions, give notice that –

- a restraining order has been made by the *Local Court / *Supreme Court under the Criminal Property Forfeiture Act for the restraint of the property specified below;
- a copy of the order is attached;
- the order applies to and including [date];
- while the order is in force, no person may deal with the property except in accordance with the Act;

The penalty for dealing with restrained property is:

For a natural person – 1 000 penalty units ($110 000) or the value of the property (whichever is greater), or imprisonment for 5 years;

For a body corporate – 5 000 penalty units ($550 000) or the value of the property (whichever is greater);

- the property that is restrained under the order is liable to forfeiture under the Act; and
- you can object to the restraint of part or all of the property by filing an objection in the court that made the order within 28 days after the service of this notice.
- NOTE: You are required under section 48 of the Criminal Property Forfeiture Act to lodge a statutory declaration in the court that made the order within 7 days after being served with this notice. The declaration is to state the name and, if known, the address of any other person of whom you are aware who has, may have or claims to have an interest in any of the property that is restrained under the order. If you are not aware of any other person who has, may have or claims to have an interest in any of the property, you must make a statutory declaration containing a statement to that effect.

The penalty for failing to make a statutory declaration is 2 000 penalty units ($220 000) or imprisonment for 2 years.

Particulars of property in relation to which the order is made:

Note: Section 49(2) of the Criminal Property Forfeiture Act provides that income or other property that is derived from property that is subject to this order is taken to be part of the property and is also restrained under this order.
