9 Object of, and achievement of, Act

- (1) The object of this Act is to ensure the safety and protection of persons who experience personal violence outside a domestic relationship as defined in the Domestic and Family Violence Act.
- (2) The object of this Act is to be achieved by providing for:
 - (a) the making of personal violence restraining orders to protect persons from certain violence; and
 - (b) the enforcement of the orders.

Part 2 Applying for and making orders

10 Application for order

Any of the following persons may apply for an order (a personal violence restraining order) for the protection of a person against another person:

- (a) the person whose protection is sought under the order;
- (b) an adult acting for the person whose protection is sought under the order;
- (c) a police officer.

11 Parties to order

- (1) Only one person may be named as the protected person and only one person may be named as the defendant in a personal violence restraining order.
- (2) The defendant named in a personal violence restraining order cannot be a child under the age of 15 years.

12 How application is made

An application for a personal violence restraining order must be made to the Court in accordance with the rules of the Court.

13 Notice of hearing of application

As soon as practicable after the application is filed, a registrar must give written notice to the person whose protection is sought and defendant of the time and place for the hearing of the application.

14 Referral to mediation

- (1) Before hearing an application for a personal violence restraining order, the Court must refer the person whose protection is sought and defendant for mediation under the Community Justice Centre Act.
- (2) However, the Court must not make a referral and must proceed to hear the application if it is satisfied that a referral is not appropriate in the circumstances, including, for example, because:
 - (a) there is a history of violence committed against the person by the defendant; and
 - (b) there has been a previous attempt at mediation between the person and defendant in relation to the application and the attempt was not successful.
- (3) A referral stays the proceedings until a report is given to the Court under subsection (6).
- (4) The referral is taken to be an application under section 13 of the Community Justice Centre Act for the provision of mediation services for a dispute between the person and defendant.
- (5) The Director of the Community Justice Centre must accept the referral.
- (6) The Director must give the Court a written report on the outcome of the mediation or attempted mediation.

- (7) The Court may refer the matter back to the Director with directions about the mediation.
- (8) In deciding the application for the personal violence restraining order, the Court must take a report of the Director into account.

15 Deciding application

- (1) The Court may decide to make a personal violence restraining order if it is satisfied on the balance of probabilities a personal violence offence has been committed, or is likely to be committed, by the defendant against the person whose protection is sought.
- (2) Otherwise, the Court must dismiss the application.
- (3) The Court may decide the application even if the defendant does not appear at the hearing.

16 Matters to be considered by Court

- (1) In deciding whether to make a personal violence restraining order, the Court must consider the safety and protection of the person whose protection is sought and any affected child to be of paramount importance.
- (2) In addition, the Court must consider the following:
 - (a) the defendant's criminal record as defined in the Criminal Records (Spent Convictions) Act,
 - (b) the defendant's previous conduct whether in relation to the person, affected child or someone else;
 - (c) other matters the Court considers relevant.

17 Content of orders

- (1) A personal violence restraining order may provide for any of the following:
 - (a) an order imposing the restraints on the defendant stated in the order as the Court considers are necessary or desirable to prevent the commission of a personal violence offence against the protected person;

- (2) In this section:

restraint includes prohibition.

 - (a) even if the defendant does not appear at the hearing; or
 - (b) if the defendant appears at the hearing:
 - (i) even though the defendant has not given evidence; or
 - (ii) even if the defendant objects to the order being made.
- (3) The interim personal violence restraining order is in force until the earlier of the following:
 - (a) it is revoked by the Court;

- (b) if a personal violence restraining order is made for the same parties and the defendant is before the Court:
 - (i) on the making of the personal violence restraining order; or
 - (ii) on the later date ordered by the Court;
- (c) if a personal violence restraining order is made for the same parties and the defendant is not before the Court:
 - (i) when the personal violence restraining order is given to the defendant; or
 - (ii) on the later date ordered by the Court.

20 Prohibition on publication of personal details

A personal violence restraining order and an interim personal violence restraining order may include an order prohibiting the publication of personal details of a protected person or witness in proceedings if the Court is satisfied the publication would expose the person to the risk of harm.

21 Defendant's identity or whereabouts unknown

- (1) This section applies if:
 - (a) the protected person, having made reasonable inquiries, is unable to ascertain the identity or whereabouts of the defendant for the purpose of making an application for a personal violence restraining order under Part 2; and

 - (c) the defendant;
 - (d) a person granted leave by the Court to make the application.
- (2) The defendant may apply for the order only with the leave of the Court.
- (3) The Court may grant leave to the defendant only if satisfied there has been a substantial change in the circumstances of the defendant or the protected person since the order was made or last varied.
