- (2A) A parole order cannot be made contrary to section 12(2) or 29(2) of the Serious Sex Offenders Act.
- (3) An order under subsection (2) in relation to a person is sufficient authority for the release of the person from a custodial correctional facility (as defined in section 11(1)(a) of the Correctional Services Act).
- (5) A parole order:
- (a) shall be expressed to be subject to the condition that the person to whom it relates must, during the parole period, be subject to supervision on parole under a person, for the time being, appointed in accordance with the order and must obey all reasonable directions of the person so appointed; and
 - (b) is subject to such other conditions, if any, as are specified in the order.

- (a) the condition that the person to whom the order relates must reside at a specified place;
 - (b) monitoring conditions mentioned in subsection (5C).
- (5B) However, the order must not be subject to monitoring conditions if the person to whom the order relates is not an adult unless the person was found guilty of the relevant offence by the Supreme Court.
- (5C) The following monitoring conditions are for monitoring the person's activities:
- (a) the person to whom the order relates must:
 - (i) wear or have attached an approved monitoring device while on parole or the lesser period fixed by the Board; and
 - (ii) allow the placing or installation in, and retrieval from, a specified place of anything necessary for the effective operation of the monitoring device;
 - (b) the person to whom the order relates must:
 - (i) give a sample of the person's voice for use with an approved monitoring device; and
 - (ii) for the effective monitoring of the person's activities while on parole, comply with the reasonable directions of a probation and parole officer in the use of the device.
- (6) The Chairperson may, at any time before the expiration of the parole period, by order in writing:
- (a) amend a parole order by varying or revoking a condition of the order, other than the condition referred to in subsection (5)(a), or by imposing additional conditions; or
 - (b) revoke the parole order.
- (6AA) The Chairperson may, subject to subsections (6AB) and (6A), at any time after the expiration of the parole period, where the person to whom the parole order related:
- (a) before or after the expiration of the parole period is found guilty of an offence committed during the parole period

(including an offence against a Commonwealth Act, regulations under a Commonwealth Act, or a law of a State or another Territory), and as a result of the finding of guilt is sentenced otherwise than to a term of actual imprisonment; or

- (b) before or after the expiration of the parole period was or is proceeded against for such an offence and was or is released by the court before which the proceedings were brought (whether or not the person is found guilty) on condition as to the person's future good behaviour or any other condition; or
- (c) failed, during the parole period, to comply with a condition of the parole order;

by order in writing, direct that the parole order be revoked and the parole order is taken to have been revoked as from the time immediately before the expiration of the parole period.

- (6AB) The Chairperson must not make an order under subsection (6AA) if, before the expiration of the parole period, the Chairperson was aware of the relevant finding of guilt, proceedings or failure.
- (6A) The Board may give directions to the Chairperson for guidance about subsection (6) or (6AA).
- (7) An amendment of a parole order under subsection (6) does not have effect until notice of the amendment is given to the person to whom the parole order relates, being notice given before the expiration of the parole period.
- (8) Subject to subsections (8A) and (8B), where a person to whom a parole order relates is sentenced to a term of imprisonment in respect of an offence committed during the parole period (including an offence against a Commonwealth Act, regulations under a Commonwealth Act, or a law of a State or another Territory), the parole order is taken to have been revoked or, if the parole period has already expired, to have been revoked as from the time immediately before the expiration of the parole period.
- (8A) Subject to subsection (8B), a parole order is not taken to be revoked where a person to whom it relates is sentenced to a term of imprisonment but is released immediately under section 40 of the Sentencing Act.
- (8B) Where a person is subsequently committed into the custody of the Commissioner of Correctional Services under section 15 of the Sentencing Act, the parole order is taken to be revoked when the person is so committed.

(9) Where:

- (a) a parole order in relation to a person is revoked; or
- (b) the person to whom a parole order relates has, during the parole period, whether or not the parole period has already expired, failed to comply with a condition of the parole order or there are reasonable grounds for suspecting that the person has, during that period, failed to comply with a condition of that order;

a police officer may:

- (c) where the person is in the Territory – without warrant, arrest that person; or
 - (d) where the person is, or where there are reasonable grounds for suspecting that that person is, in a State or another Territory – with a warrant referred to in subsection (9A), arrest that person.
- (9A) For subsection (9)(d), a court may, upon application being made to it by the Director of Public Prosecutions, issue a warrant authorising a police officer to arrest a person referred to in that subsection.
- (10) Where a police officer arrests a person in pursuance of subsection (9), the police officer must, as soon as practicable, take the person before the Local Court.

6 Cancellation of parole by court

- (1) If a police officer arrests a person in the circumstances specified in section 5(9)(b), the court before which the person is taken may, in its absolute discretion but subject to subsection (2), cancel the parole order.
- (2) The court must not, under subsection (1), cancel a parole order unless it is satisfied that the person has failed, without reasonable excuse, to comply with a condition of the parole order.
- (3) Where the court cancels a parole order and the parole period in relation to the order has already expired, the parole order is taken to have been cancelled as from the time immediately before the expiration of the parole period.

7 Issue of warrant where parole order revoked or cancelled

Where:

- (a) a person has been brought before the Local Court in pursuance of section 5(10); and
- (b) the court is satisfied that the parole order in relation to the person has been revoked or the court cancels the parole order in relation to the person;

the court must issue a warrant for the commitment of the person into the custody of the Commissioner of Correctional Services to serve the part of the term of imprisonment to which the parole order relates that the person has not served.

8 Remand of person

- (1) Where a person has been brought before the Local Court in pursuance of section 5(10), the court may defer or adjourn the hearing of the matter and may:
 - (a) by warrant from time to time remand the person into the custody of the Commissioner of Correctional Services until the time appointed for continuing the hearing; or
 - (b) grant the person bail in accordance with the Bail Act.

9 Release of person on bail

- (1) Where:
 - (a) a warrant has been issued in respect of a person under section 7; and
 - (b) an appeal is instituted by the person in pursuance of section 10;

the Local Court may, on the application of the person, grant the person bail in accordance with the Bail Act.

- (2) Where an appeal under section 10 is allowed, a bail undertaking and any bail conditions entered into pursuant to a grant of bail under subsection (1) ceases to have effect.
- (3) Where a person has been released on bail pursuant to a grant of bail made under subsection (1), a warrant issued under section 7 in respect of the person must not, unless the person fails to comply with the person's bail undertaking or an agreement entered into by the person pursuant to a bail condition, be executed or further executed before the appeal is disposed of.

10 Appeal from decision to cancel parole order

- (1) Where the Local Court, in pursuance of section 6, cancels a parole order, the person to whom the order relates may appeal to the Supreme Court against the cancellation and the Supreme Court must:
 - (a) if it is satisfied that the ground on which the parole order was cancelled has been established – confirm the cancellation; or
 - (b) if it is not so satisfied – order that the cancellation and any warrant issued as a result of the cancellation cease to have effect.
- (2) An appeal under subsection (1) is by way of re-hearing, but the Supreme Court may have regard to any evidence given before the Local Court.

11 Service of term of imprisonment

Where a parole order in relation to a person is revoked or cancelled and the person is taken into custody in pursuance of this Act, the person must, during any period in which the person is in custody in pursuance of this Act, be taken to be serving the part of the term of imprisonment that remained to be served at the commencement of the parole period.

13 Release of person on parole after revocation or cancellation of previous parole order

A parole order may be made in relation to a person even if a previous parole order in relation to the person has been revoked or is taken to have been revoked, or has been cancelled.

14 Effect of parole order on sentence

- (1) Where a parole order is made in relation to a person:
 - (a) the person is taken to be still under sentence of imprisonment, and not to have served the part of the term of imprisonment that remained to be served at the commencement of the parole period, until the parole period expires without the parole order being revoked or cancelled or until the person is otherwise discharged from that imprisonment; and
 - (b) if the parole period expires without the parole order being revoked or cancelled, the person is taken to have served the part of the term of imprisonment that remained to be served at the commencement of the parole period and to have been discharged from that imprisonment.

- (2) Where a parole order in relation to a person is, under section 5(6AA) or (8), taken to have been revoked as from the time immediately before the expiration of the parole period, subsection (1) has effect as if the parole period had not expired without the parole order being revoked or cancelled.
- (3) Where a parole order in relation to a person is, under section 6(3), taken to have been cancelled as from the time immediately before the expiration of the parole period, subsection (1) has effect as if the parole period had not expired without the parole order being revoked or cancelled.

Where:

- (a) a parole order in relation to a person is revoked or cancelled under this Act; and
- (b) before the revocation or cancellation, the person had earned under a law of the Territory a period of partial remission of the sentence of imprisonment in respect of which the parole order was made;

the period so earned must, despite this or any other law of the Territory, be deducted from the term of imprisonment that remains to be served as a result of the revocation or cancellation of the parole order.
