 - (b) to provide conditions in the court's order that will help the offender to be rehabilitated;

- (c) to discourage the offender or other persons from committing the same or a similar offence;

 - (f) a combination of 2 or more of the purposes referred to in this subsection.
- (2) In sentencing an offender, a court must have regard to:
- (a) the maximum and any minimum penalty prescribed for the offence; and
 - (b) the nature of the offence and how serious the offence was, including any physical, psychological or emotional harm done to a victim; and
 - (ba) if the offence is a sexual offence:
 - (i) whether the victim contracted a sexually transmissible medical condition as a result of the offence; and
 - (ii) whether the offender was aware at the time of the offence that he or she had a medical condition that could be sexually transmitted; and
 - (c) the extent to which the offender is to blame for the offence; and

 - (ii) evidence is given that the victim contracted the medical condition at a time that is consistent with the medical condition being transmitted from the offender;

the contraction by the victim of the medical condition is to be taken to be a result of the offence.

(4) In sentencing an offender, a court:

- (a) may have regard to any co-operation by the offender in resolving any action taken against the offender under the Criminal Property Forfeiture Act in relation to the offence or offences for which the offender is being sentenced; and
- (b) may have regard to a forfeiture order under the Criminal Property Forfeiture Act to the extent that the order relates to property that is crime-used property (within the meaning of that Act) in relation to the offence or offences for which the offender is being sentenced; and

- (7) Where an offender is ordered to serve the whole or part of a wholly suspended sentence of imprisonment under section 43, then, for any enactment providing for disqualification for, or loss of, office or the forfeiture or suspension of pensions or other benefits, the offender is taken to have been sentenced to imprisonment on the day on which the order was made under that section.
- (8) A partly suspended sentence of imprisonment is taken, for all purposes, to be a sentence of imprisonment for the whole term stated by the court.
- (9) For this section, a suspended sentence of imprisonment imposed on an offender on appeal is taken to have been imposed by the appellate court.
- (10) Despite subsection (9), where a suspended sentence of imprisonment is imposed on an offender on appeal, an application under this subdivision that may be made to a court may be made to the court whose order was appealed against and that court may deal with the offender even if the court is not the court that imposed the sentence.

41 Effect of suspended sentence

An offender in respect of whom a suspended sentence has been imposed under section 40 has to serve the sentence or part sentence held in suspense only if he or she is ordered to do so under section 43.

42 Variation of order conditionally suspending sentence

(1) A court which has made an order wholly or partially suspending a sentence of imprisonment on certain conditions may, on application under this subsection, if satisfied that:

- (a) the circumstances of the offender have materially altered since the order was made and as a result the offender will not be able to comply with any condition of the order; or
- (b) the offender has failed or is no longer willing to comply with a condition of the order;

vary or cancel the order and, subject to subsection (2), deal with the offender for the offence or offences with respect to which the order was made in any manner in which the court could deal with the offender if it had just convicted the offender of the offence or those offences.

(2) In determining how to deal with an offender following the cancellation of an order suspending a sentence of imprisonment, the court must take into account the extent to which the offender had complied with the order before its cancellation.

(3) An application under subsection (1) may be made at any time by:

- (a) the offender; or
- (b) a prescribed person or a member of a prescribed class of persons; or

 - (b) within the period of 2 years after the expiry of the operational period of a suspended sentence;

it appears to a prescribed person or a member of a prescribed class of persons that, during the operational period, the offender committed another offence against a law in force in the Territory or elsewhere that is punishable by imprisonment, he or she may apply, in the prescribed form, to the court which sentenced the offender for an order under this section.

- (2) Where it appears to a prescribed person, or a member of a prescribed class of persons, that an offender has breached a condition to which an order suspending a sentence imposed on the offender is subject, he or she may apply, whether or not the order is still in force, in the prescribed form, to the court which sentenced the offender for an order under this section.

- (3) Where an application is made under subsection (1) or (2):
- (a) notice of the application must be given to the offender; or
 - (b) where the Court is satisfied:
 - (i) for an application under subsection (1) – that, during the operational period of the suspended sentence, the offender committed another offence against a law in force in the Territory or elsewhere that is punishable by imprisonment and that the offender may not appear; or
 - (ii) for an application under subsection (2) – that the offender has breached a condition to which the order suspending the sentence is subject and that the offender may not appear; the Court may issue a warrant for the arrest of the offender.

- (4) The court may, on the hearing of an application under this section, order that a warrant be issued to arrest an offender where the offender does not attend before the court on the hearing of the application.
- (4AA) A police officer who suspects, on reasonable grounds, that an offender has breached a condition to which an order suspending a sentence imposed on the offender is subject may, without warrant, arrest the offender.
- (4AB) For the application of sections 137 and 138 of the Police Administration Act, a breach of a condition to which an order suspending a sentence imposed on an offender is subject is to be taken to be an offence.

- (a) an offender appears before a court:
 - (i) while an order made by the court suspending a sentence of imprisonment under section 40 is in force in respect of the offender; or
 - (ii) within the period of 2 years after the expiry of the operational period of a suspended sentence imposed by the court on the offender; and
 - (b) the court is satisfied that, during the operational period of the suspended sentence, the offender committed another offence against a law in force in the Territory or elsewhere that is punishable by imprisonment;
- the court may of its own motion make an order under this section.
- (4B) Where a court is satisfied that an offender who is before the court has breached a condition to which an order made by the court suspending a sentence imposed on the offender is subject, the court may of its own motion make an order under this section.
- (4C) Where the Local Court is satisfied in respect of an offender who is before that Court:
- (a) that, during the operational period of a suspended sentence imposed on the offender by the Supreme Court, the offender committed another offence against a law in force in the Territory or elsewhere that is punishable by imprisonment; or
 - (b) that the offender has breached a condition to which an order made by the Supreme Court suspending a sentence imposed on the offender is subject;

the Local Court may commit the offender to the Supreme Court to be dealt with by that Court under this section.

(4D) If the Supreme Court is satisfied in respect of an offender before that Court that, during the operational period of a suspended sentence imposed on the offender by the Local Court, the offender committed another offence against a law in force in the Territory or elsewhere that is punishable by imprisonment:

- (a) for subsection (4A), the Supreme Court is taken to have imposed the suspended sentence; and
- (b) the Supreme Court may deal with the offender under this section.

(4E) If the Supreme Court is satisfied in respect of an offender before that Court that the offender has breached a condition of an order made by the Local Court suspending a sentence imposed on the offender:

- (a) for subsection (4B), the Supreme Court is taken to have made the order; and
- (b) the Supreme Court may deal with the offender under this section.

(5) Where:

- (a) on the hearing of an application under subsection (1) or on the hearing of its own motion under subsection (4A), a court is satisfied, by evidence on oath or by affidavit or by the admission of the offender, that, during the operational period of the suspended sentence, the offender committed another offence against a law in force in the Territory or elsewhere that is punishable by imprisonment; or
- (b) on the hearing of an application under subsection (2) or on the hearing of its own motion under subsection (4B), a court is satisfied, by evidence on oath or by affidavit or by the admission of the offender, that the offender has breached a condition of the order;

the court may:

- (c) subject to subsection (7), restore the sentence or part sentence held in suspense and order the offender to serve it; or

- (a) immediately; and
 - (b) concurrently with any other term of imprisonment previously imposed on the offender by that or any other court.
- (7) A court must make an order under subsection (5)(c) unless it is of the opinion that it would be unjust to do so in view of all the circumstances which have arisen since the suspended sentence was imposed, including the facts of any subsequent offence and, if it is of that opinion, the court must state its reasons.
- (8) Where a court makes no order with respect to a suspended sentence, the proper officer of the court must record the fact in the records of the court.

 - (i) all disqualifications applying to the offender in relation to holding a licence, or the offender's ability to apply for a licence or renewal of a licence, under that Act when the MVA order was made are reinstated as if the MVA order had not been made; and
 - (ii) the demerit points entered in the register against the offender's name for offences committed in the Territory that ceased to have effect under section 25S(1)(b) of that Act when the MVA order was made are again active demerit points for that Act.
- (6) To avoid doubt, the period from the making of the MVA order to its revocation must be disregarded in working out the reinstated disqualifications applying to the offender.
- (7) If the court sentences the offender to serve the unexpired term of imprisonment, the term must:
- (a) be served immediately; and
 - (b) be served cumulatively on another term of imprisonment previously imposed on the offender by any court.

48N Records as evidence

A matter contained in the following records produced to a court in a proceeding under this Subdivision is, as far as it is applicable, evidence of the offender's activities:

- (a) records generated by or through an approved monitoring device;
- (b) records comprising the notebooks or diaries of a probation and parole officer.

48P Certain costs recoverable by Territory

If the offender destroys or damages an approved monitoring device or associated device, machine or equipment:

- (a) the offender is liable to pay the costs of restoring or replacing the device, machine or equipment; and
- (b) the costs may be recovered from the offender as a debt payable to the Territory.

48Q End of sentence and discharge of order

- (1) If the Commissioner is satisfied the offender has complied with the conditions of the community custody order the Commissioner must issue a certificate that the order is discharged.
- (2) On the issue of the certificate:
 - (a) the offender is taken to have served the sentence of imprisonment; and
 - (b) the order is discharged.

Subdivision 3 Imprisonment

49 Term of imprisonment where none prescribed

Where a person is found guilty of an offence against a law in force in the Territory punishable by imprisonment but the maximum term of imprisonment is not prescribed by law, then the maximum term which may be ordered is imprisonment for 2 years.

50 Imprisonment to be served concurrently unless otherwise ordered

Unless otherwise provided by this Act or the court imposing imprisonment otherwise orders, where an offender is:

- (a) serving, or has been sentenced to serve, a term of imprisonment for an offence; and
- (b) sentenced to serve another term of imprisonment for another offence;

the term of imprisonment for the other offence is to be served concurrently with the first offence.

51 Cumulative orders of imprisonment

- (1) If an offender is:

- (a) serving, or has been sentenced to serve, a term of imprisonment for an offence; and
- (b) sentenced to serve another term of imprisonment for another offence;

the term of imprisonment for the other offence may be directed to start from the end of the term of imprisonment for the first offence or an earlier date.

- (2) Subsection (1) applies whether the term of imprisonment for the first offence is being served concurrently with or cumulatively on the term of imprisonment for another offence.

52 Aggregate sentences of imprisonment

- (1) Where an offender is found guilty of 2 or more offences joined in the same information, complaint or indictment, the court may impose one term of imprisonment in respect of both or all of those offences but the term of imprisonment must not exceed the maximum term of imprisonment that could be imposed if a separate term were imposed in respect of each offence.
- (2) A court must not impose one term of imprisonment under subsection (1) where one of the offences in respect of which the term of imprisonment would be imposed is an offence against section 192(3) of the Criminal Code.
- (3) Subsection (1) does not apply if one of the offences in the information, complaint or indictment is a violent offence or a sexual offence.

53 Fixing of non-parole period by sentencing court

(1) Subject to this section and sections 53A, 54, 55 and 55A, where a court sentences an offender to be imprisoned:

- (a) for life; or
- (b) for 12 months or longer, that is not suspended in whole or part;

it must, as part of the sentence, fix a period during which the offender is not eligible to be released on parole unless it considers that the nature of the offence, the past history of the offender or the circumstances of the particular case make the fixing of such a period inappropriate.

(1A) Subject to section 57, if a court sentences an offender to be imprisoned for less than 12 months or for a term that is suspended in whole or part, the court may not, as part of the sentence, fix a non-parole period.

(2) Where a court sentences an offender to be imprisoned in respect of more than one offence, a period fixed under subsection (1) is in respect of the aggregate period of imprisonment that the offender is liable to serve under all the sentences then imposed.

53A Non-parole periods for offence of murder

(1) Subject to this section, where a court (the sentencing court) sentences an offender to be imprisoned for life for the offence of murder, the court must fix under section 53(1):

- (a) a standard non-parole period of 20 years; or
- (b) if any of the circumstances in subsection (3) apply – a non-parole period of 25 years.

(2) The standard non-parole period of 20 years referred to in subsection (1)(a) represents the non-parole period for an offence in the middle of the range of objective seriousness for offences to which the standard non-parole period applies.

(3) The circumstances referred to in subsection (1)(b) are any of the following:

- (a) the victim's occupation was police officer, emergency services worker, correctional services officer (as defined in section 16 of the Correctional Services Act), judicial officer, health professional, teacher, community worker or other occupation involving the performance of a public function or the provision

- of a community service and the act or omission that caused the victim's death occurred while the victim was carrying out the duties of his or her occupation or for a reason otherwise connected with his or her occupation;
- (b) the act or omission that caused the victim's death was part of a course of conduct by the offender that included conduct, either before or after the victim's death, that would have constituted a sexual offence against the victim;
 - (c) the victim was under 18 years of age at the time of the act or omission that caused the victim's death;
 - (d) if the offender is being sentenced for 2 or more convictions for unlawful homicide;
 - (e) if the offender is being sentenced for one conviction for murder and one or more other unlawful homicides are being taken into account;
 - (f) at the time the offender was convicted of the offence, the offender had one or more previous convictions for unlawful homicide.
- (4) The sentencing court may fix a non-parole period that is longer than a non-parole period referred to in subsection (1)(a) or (b) if satisfied that, because of any objective or subjective factors affecting the relative seriousness of the offence, a longer non-parole period is warranted.
- (5) The sentencing court may refuse to fix a non-parole period if satisfied the level of culpability in the commission of the offence is so extreme the community interest in retribution, punishment, protection and deterrence can only be met if the offender is imprisoned for the term of his or her natural life without the possibility of release on parole.
- (6) The sentencing court may fix a non-parole period that is shorter than the standard non-parole period of 20 years referred to in subsection (1)(a) if satisfied there are exceptional circumstances that justify fixing a shorter non-parole period.
- (7) For there to be exceptional circumstances sufficient to justify fixing a shorter non-parole period under subsection (6), the sentencing court must be satisfied of the following matters and must not have regard to any other matters:
- (a) the offender is:
 - (i) otherwise a person of good character; and

- (ii) unlikely to re-offend;
 - (b) the victim's conduct, or conduct and condition, substantially mitigate the conduct of the offender.
- (8) In considering whether the offender is unlikely to re-offend, the matters the sentencing court may have regard to include the following:
 - (a) whether the offender has a significant record of previous convictions;
 - (b) any expressions of remorse by the offender;
 - (c) any other matters referred to in section 5(2) that are relevant.
- (9) The sentencing court must give reasons for fixing, or refusing to fix, a non-parole period and must identify in those reasons each of the factors it took into account in making that decision.
- (10) The failure of the sentencing court to comply with this section when fixing, or refusing to fix, a non-parole period does not invalidate the sentence imposed on the offender.
- (11) This section applies only in relation to an offence committed:
 - (a) after the commencement of the Sentencing (Crime of Murder) and Parole Reform Act 2003; or
 - (b) before the commencement of that Act if, at that commencement, the offender has not been sentenced for the offence.
- (12) In subsection (3):

unlawful homicide means the offence of murder or manslaughter.

54 Minimum non-parole period

- (1) Subject to this section, where a court sentences an offender to be imprisoned for 12 months or longer that is not suspended in whole or in part, the court must fix a period under section 53(1) of not less than 50% of the period of imprisonment that the offender is to serve under the sentence.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not permit a court to fix a period under section 53(1) of less than 8 months.
- (3) Subsection (1) does not apply where the court under section 53(1) considers the fixing of a non-parole period is inappropriate.

- (4) If the court is required under Division 6A to impose a minimum sentence of 12 months actual imprisonment for an offence, the period fixed under section 53(1) for that offence must be not less than 12 months.

55 Minimum non-parole period for certain sexual offences and drug offences

- (1) If a court sentences an offender to be imprisoned for a specified offence for 12 months or longer, that is not suspended in whole or in part, the court must, under section 53(1), fix a period of not less than 70% of the period of imprisonment that the offender is to serve under the sentence.
- (2) However, subsection (1) does not apply if, under section 53(1), the court considers that the fixing of a non-parole period is inappropriate.
- (3) In this section:

specified offence means:

- (a) an offence against section 192(3) of the Criminal Code; or
- (b) an offence against section 5(1), 5B(1), 5C(1), 6(1), 6C(1), 6D(1), 6E(1), 6G(1), 7(1), 7C(1) or 7D(1) of the Misuse of Drugs Act; or
- (c) an offence against any other provision of the Misuse of Drugs Act if it is an offence in relation to which section 38 of that Act applies.

55A Fixed non-parole periods for offences against persons under 16 years

- (1) Subject to this section, if:
- (a) a court sentences an offender to be imprisoned for an offence against section 127, 130, 131, 131A, 132, 134, 177(a), 181, 184, 186, 186B, 188 or 192(4) of the Criminal Code; and
- (b) the offender was an adult when the offence was committed; and
- (c) the offence was committed on a person who was under the age of 16 years; and
- (d) the sentence is not suspended in whole or part;

the court must fix a period under section 53(1) of not less than 70% of the period of imprisonment that the offender is to serve under the sentence.

- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply where under section 53(1) the court considers that the fixing of a non-parole period is inappropriate.

56 Fixing of non-parole period otherwise than by sentencing court

- (1) The failure of a sentencing court to fix a non-parole period under section 53(1) does not invalidate the sentence but the court may, on the application of the offender, the Commissioner or the prosecutor, fix a non-parole period in accordance with that section in any manner in which the sentencing court might have done so.
- (2) A court may fix a non-parole period under section 53(1) in respect of a term of imprisonment being served by an offender who, at the commencement of this subsection, is serving a sentence of imprisonment to which that subsection applies in respect of which a non-parole period had not been fixed.
- (3) A court may fix a non-parole period under subsection (2) on the application of the offender, the Commissioner or the prosecutor and it may do so as if it had just sentenced the offender to the term of imprisonment.
- (4) Subsection (2) does not apply to a sentence of imprisonment imposed for the offence of murder if the sentence was imposed before the commencement of the Sentencing (Crime of Murder) and Parole Reform Act 2003.

57 Fixing of new non-parole period in respect of multiple sentences

- (1) This section applies if:
- (a) an offender has been sentenced to be imprisoned for an offence and a non-parole period has been fixed in respect of the sentence; and
 - (b) before the end of the non-parole period the offender is sentenced by a court to a further term of imprisonment.
- (1A) The court must fix a new single non-parole period in respect of all the sentences the offender is to serve or complete.

- (2) The new single non-parole period fixed at the time of the imposition of the further sentence:
- (a) supersedes any previous non-parole period that the offender is to serve or complete; and
 - (b) must not be such as to render the offender eligible to be released on parole earlier than would have been the case if the further sentence had not been imposed; and
 - (c) must not be less than the non-parole period required to be fixed in accordance with section 53A, 54, 55 or 55A, as the case may be, in respect of the further sentence.

59 Order of service of sentences of imprisonment

Where an offender has been sentenced to several terms of imprisonment in respect of any of which a non-parole period was fixed, the offender must serve:

- (a) the term or terms in respect of which a non-parole period was not fixed; and
- (b) the non-parole period; and
- (c) unless and until released on parole, the balance of the term or terms after the end of the non-parole period;

in that order.

60 Sentences of imprisonment – whether concurrent or cumulative

- (1) A court which imposes a term of imprisonment for an offence against a law of the Territory on an offender already undergoing a sentence or sentences of imprisonment for an offence against a law of the Commonwealth must direct when the new term commences, which must be no later than immediately after:
- (a) the completion of that sentence or those sentences if a non-parole period or pre-release period (as defined in Part IB of the Crimes Act 1914 (Cth)) was not fixed in respect of it or them; or

 - (a) the escape sentence must be served at the end of all other sentences the offender is liable to serve; and
 - (b) if a non-parole period has been fixed in relation to one or all of the other sentences – the non-parole period is extended by the term of imprisonment under the escape sentence.
- (2) However, if the offender is serving a life sentence and a non-parole period has not been fixed, and parole is granted on a review, the escape sentence must be served before the parole takes effect.
- (3) If a court quashes the sentence of imprisonment that the offender was serving at the time of his or her escape, the court must make the orders it considers appropriate in relation to the escape sentence.

61 Sentence of imprisonment on default of payment of fine

Every term of imprisonment imposed on an offender in default of payment of a fine or sum of money must, unless otherwise directed by the court, be served:

- (a) cumulatively on any incomplete sentence or sentences of imprisonment imposed on the offender for the default of a payment of a fine or sum of money; and
- (b) concurrently with any incomplete sentence or sentences of imprisonment imposed on the offender, whether the other sentence was or the other sentences were imposed before or at the same time as that term.

- (2) Where an offender to whom subsection (3) applies is, in the period during which service of the sentence is suspended under that subsection, imprisoned under another sentence, the unexpired portion of the suspended sentence takes effect:
 - (a) if it is to be served cumulatively on the sentence or sentences the offender is then undergoing, on the day that sentence is, or those sentences are, completed; or
 - (b) in any other case, at the end of the period of suspension.
- (3) Where an offender sentenced to a term of imprisonment and allowed to be or to go at large pending an appeal or the consideration of any question of law reserved or case stated is imprisoned under another sentence at the time when the appeal, question of law or case stated is finally determined, the first-mentioned sentence or the unexpired portion of it takes effect:
 - (a) if it is to be served cumulatively on the sentence or sentences the offender is then undergoing, on the day that sentence is, or those sentences are, completed; or
 - (b) in any other case, on the day on which the appeal, question of law or case stated is finally determined.
- (4) Subsection (3) applies unless the sentencing court or the court determining the appeal, question of law or case stated otherwise directs.

63 Calculation of term of imprisonment

- (1) Despite anything to the contrary in this or any other Act or in a rule of law or practice, a sentence of imprisonment must be calculated exclusive of any time during which service of the sentence is suspended under section 62(2) or (3).
- (3) Where an offender serving a sentence of imprisonment is subject to an order made under section 23 of the Mental Health Act as in force before the commencement of the Mental Health and Related Services Act, the time that the offender is subject to the order or at the hospital counts in calculating the term to be served.
- (4) Except as expressly provided or expressly ordered, a sentence of imprisonment on conviction, takes effect from the day the court passes sentence on the offender and a sentence of imprisonment on summary conviction takes effect from the commencement of the offender's custody under the sentence.

- (7) Where an offender is serving an indefinite sentence and the offender is convicted of another violent offence, the Supreme Court must, if it imposes an indefinite sentence on the offender for the other violent offence, specify one nominal sentence that applies to all the indefinite sentences.

- (i) its own initiative; or
 - (ii) an application made by counsel for the prosecution; and
- (b) the court has, after advising the offender under paragraph (a), adjourned the offender's sentencing for not less than 28 days or such shorter period where the offender and counsel for the prosecution agree, from the day of conviction of the violent offence so that evidence on sentence may be called by the prosecution and the offender.

68 Evidence

- (1) Subject to the admissibility of the evidence, before the Supreme Court imposes an indefinite sentence it must hear evidence:
- (a) called by the prosecutor; and
 - (b) given or called by the offender, if the offender elects to give or call evidence.

70 Onus of proof

The prosecution has the onus of proving that an offender is a serious danger to the community.

71 Standard of proof

The Supreme Court may make a finding that an offender is a serious danger to the community only if it is satisfied:

- (a) by acceptable and cogent evidence; and
- (b) to a high degree of probability;

that the evidence is of sufficient weight to justify the finding.

72 Review – periodic

- (1) Where the Supreme Court imposes an indefinite sentence, it:
- (a) must for the first time review the indefinite sentence not later than 6 months after an offender has served:

 - (a) order that the indefinite sentence is discharged; and
 - (b) sentence the offender under this Act for the violent offence for which the indefinite sentence was imposed.
- (2) Where the Supreme Court does not make an order under subsection (1)(a), the indefinite sentence continues in force.

 - (b) the hearing of the application continue in the offender's absence.
- (5) Where the Supreme Court is satisfied that the offender is unable to be present during the hearing of the evidence or application because of the offender's illness or another reason, the Supreme Court may allow the offender to be absent during the whole or a part of the hearing if it is satisfied that:
- (a) the offender's interests will not be prejudiced by the hearing continuing in the offender's absence; and
 - (b) the interests of justice require that the hearing should continue in the offender's absence.

although the sum is in whole or in part payable to a party other than the Crown.

Part 11 Miscellaneous matters

117 Offender to be present when sentence imposed

- (1) A court must not make an order under Part 3 unless the offender in respect of whom the order is to be made is before the court.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to:
 - (a) an order imposing a fine under section 16; or
 - (b) an order made on the hearing of an appeal.

120 Lesser sentence may be imposed

Subject to anything to the contrary in this or any other Act, a court may, as it thinks fit in sentencing an offender, impose a shorter term of imprisonment or a lesser amount as a fine than that prescribed.

121 Effect of alterations in penalties

- (1) Where an Act, including this Act, or an instrument of a legislative or administrative character increases the penalty or the maximum or minimum penalty for an offence, the increase applies only to an offence committed after the commencement of the provision effecting the increase.
- (2) Where an Act, including this Act, or an instrument of a legislative or administrative character reduces the penalty or the maximum or minimum penalty for an offence, the reduction extends to an offence committed before the commencement of the provision effecting the reduction for which no penalty had been imposed at that commencement.

122 Maximum penalty for indictable offence dealt with summarily

- (1) If the Local Court hears and determines a charge of an indictable offence summarily, the court must not impose on the person found guilty of the offence a sentence of imprisonment of more than 5 years or a fine greater than 500 penalty units.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not have the effect of increasing the maximum penalty for the indictable offence.

123 Old offences relevant in determining previous convictions

- (1) A finding of guilt or conviction of an old offence counts as a finding of guilt or conviction of a new offence for the purpose of determining whether or not a person has previously been found guilty or convicted of the new offence.
- (2) For this section:
 - (a) an old offence is an offence under a repealed statutory provision which is constituted by the same acts, omissions, matters, circumstances or things as an offence (the new offence) under an Act or an instrument of a legislative or administrative character which substantially re-enacts (whether in the same language or not) the repealed statutory provision; and

- (b) a repealed statutory provision is an Act or a provision of an Act that has been repealed or an instrument of a legislative or administrative character or a provision of such an instrument that has been repealed or revoked.
- (3) This section applies even where the new offence differs from the old offence in:
 - (a) its penalty; or
 - (b) the procedure applicable to its prosecution; or
 - (c) its classification; or
 - (d) its name;

unless a contrary intention appears in the Act or the instrument of a legislative or administrative character that creates the new offence.

123A Late guilty plea not relevant for sentencing for offence

- (1) This section applies if:
 - (a) an offender is charged with an offence in the Local Court; and
 - (b) the offence is listed for a trial in the Local Court; and
 - (c) a plea of guilty is received from the offender within 7 days before the date appointed for the trial.
- (2) Despite section 5(2)(j), the court, in sentencing the offender, must not:
 - (a) have regard to the plea of guilty and the stage in the proceedings at which the offender pleaded guilty; and
 - (b) impose a sentence that is less severe than the sentence that the Local Court would have imposed but for the plea of guilty.
- (3) Subsection (2) does not apply if the court is satisfied that the offender could not have pleaded guilty any earlier.

124 Abolition of common law bonds

A court does not have jurisdiction to release an offender on a recognisance or bond to be of good behaviour and to appear for sentence when called on.

126 Facilitation of proof

Where an offender is before a court to be dealt with for a breach of a sentencing order made under this Act:

- (a) an averment of the prosecutor that the offender is the person in respect of whom the order was made is evidence of the matter so averred; and
- (b) on the averring of the fact referred to in paragraph (a), the offender may be asked by the court whether the person was convicted of the offence or offences in respect of which the order was made and, if the person admits the conviction or convictions, no further proof of the conviction or convictions is necessary.

128 Regulations

- (1) The Administrator may make regulations under this Act.
- (2) The Regulations may:
 - (a) be of general or limited application; or
 - (b) confer a discretionary authority or impose a duty on a specified person or a specified class of person; or
