26 Chief Executive Officer may employ number of employees necessary

The Chief Executive Officer of an Agency may divide the duties to be performed by employees in the Agency between such number of employees as the Chief Executive Officer considers necessary for the efficient operation of the Agency, but so that the total payable as remuneration of the Chief Executive Officer and employees employed or who could be employed in the Agency will not at any time exceed the limits of the amount available for that purpose.

- (1) Subject to this Act, the Chief Executive Officer of an Agency may employ a person as an employee, or promote or transfer an employee, to perform duties in the Agency.
- (2) Subject to this Act, a Chief Executive Officer must not employ a person as an employee, or promote or transfer an employee, except in accordance with the merit principle and this Act.
- (3) Employment under subsection (1) may be:

 - (b) fixed period – being employment for a period of time specified in the contract of employment, other than casual employment; or

- (c) casual – being employment to work as and when required from time to time.
- (4) A promotion or transfer under subsection (1) may be from within the Chief Executive Officer's Agency or from another Agency.
- (5) Nothing in this Act authorises the employment, promotion or transfer of a person to perform duties in an Agency where it would result in expenditure of a greater amount than has been appropriated or is otherwise available to the Agency for the payment of the remuneration of the Chief Executive Officer of, and employees employed in, the Agency.

30 Procedure for filling vacancies

- (1) Where duties are to be performed for a period exceeding 6 months by a person employed, or by an employee promoted or transferred, under section 29 to perform the duties, the Chief Executive Officer of the Agency in which the duties are to be performed:
 - (a) must advertise for applications from persons and employees who wish to be employed, promoted or transferred to perform the duties; or
 - (b) may, with the approval of the Commissioner, select without advertising, a person or employee who satisfies the requirements of section 31.
- (2) The employment, promotion or transfer of a person must be notified in the way the Commissioner directs, unless the Commissioner directs that notification is not required.
- (3) Except as directed by the Commissioner, the Chief Executive Officer need not employ, promote or transfer a person to perform duties as advertised under subsection (1)(a).
- (4) Where the Commissioner believes, on reasonable grounds, that the process of selection of an employee or other person under this section is not being conducted in a manner likely to result in the selection of a person or employee in accordance with the merit principle, the Commissioner must, within 7 days after forming that belief, direct the Chief Executive Officer to:
 - (a) make a selection, in accordance with the merit principle, from the applicants to perform the duties; or
 - (b) re-advertise as provided in subsection (1)(a).

- (5) Where a Chief Executive Officer making the selection under this section is satisfied that:
- (a) all employees eligible to appeal against the selection under section 59B have waived their right to appeal against the selection or the period within which they may appeal has expired and no such appeal has been lodged; or
 - (b) where such an appeal has been lodged:
 - (i) the appeal has been heard and determined and the selection by the Chief Executive Officer has been confirmed; or the Chief Executive Officer must appoint the person or promote or transfer, as the case may be, the employee selected to perform the duties.

31 Conditions for employment etc.

A Chief Executive Officer must not employ a person or promote or transfer an employee to perform duties in an Agency unless the person or employee possesses such educational qualifications and meets such other requirements (including as to health and physical fitness) as are determined by the Commissioner as being required for the performance of the duties.

32 Probation for ongoing employees

- (1) Subject to this section, an ongoing employee is employed on probation for 6 months commencing on the day on which the person commences duty under the employment.
- (2) The Chief Executive Officer of an Agency may employ an ongoing employee without probation:

 - (b) where employment without probation is authorised by or under this or any other Act.
- (3) Where an employee has been on probation for 6 months or an extension of that period under paragraph (c), the Chief Executive Officer must:
 - (a) confirm the employment, and the employee ceases to be on probation; or

- (b) terminate the employment; or
 - (c) extend the probation for a further period not exceeding 6 months or, where under subsection (4) a maximum period of probation has been determined in relation to the class of employee to which the employee belongs, for the period the Chief Executive Officer thinks fit, but so that the total period of probation does not exceed that maximum.
- (4) For subsection (3)(c), the Commissioner may determine, in relation to a class of employees, a maximum period for which an employee of that class may be employed on probation.
- (5) At any time during which an employee is employed on probation in an Agency, the Chief Executive Officer of the Agency may:
- (a) confirm the employment, and the employee ceases to be on probation; or
 - (b) terminate the employment.
- (6) The Chief Executive Officer must not take action under subsection (3)(b) or (5)(b) unless the Chief Executive Officer has given the employee not less than 14 days notice of the Chief Executive Officer's intention to take the action and:
- (a) the employee has waived the right to request the Commissioner to review the Chief Executive Officer's intention to take the action or the period within which the employee may make the request has expired and no such request has been made; or
 - (b) if such a request has been made, the Commissioner has confirmed the intended action or the request has been withdrawn.
- (7) If, at the end of an employee's period of probation, the Chief Executive Officer does not take action as mentioned in subsection (3):
- (a) for an employee whose period of probation has not previously been extended – the employee's period of probation is extended for the maximum period for which it could have been extended under subsection (3)(c); or
 - (b) for an employee whose period of probation has already been extended on one or more occasions – the employee's employment is confirmed and the employee ceases to be on probation.

- (8) In determining the period for which an employee has been on probation, the following periods must be disregarded:
- (a) any period during which the employee is on leave without pay;
 - (b) any period during which the employee is suspended (with or without remuneration);
 - (c) if section 38 applies to the employee – the period between his or her resignation and re-employment under that section;
 - (d) if the employee is absent from normal duties for a total of 6 weeks – any subsequent period of absence from normal duties.
- (9) For subsection (8)(d), an employee is absent from normal duties if the employee:
- (a) is on leave with pay; or
 - (b) is temporarily transferred to perform other duties; or
 - (c) is otherwise not performing the duties he or she was employed to perform but is still receiving his or her normal remuneration and is not suspended.

33 Termination of fixed period or casual employment

Subject to any contract of employment under which the employee is employed, the Chief Executive Officer of an Agency may terminate the employment of a fixed period employee or casual employee in the Agency at any time.

34 Fixed period employment

- (1) The Commissioner may determine the duties or classes of duties in an Agency or the Public Sector generally that:
- (a) may be performed for a fixed period; or
 - (b) may only be performed for a fixed period.
- (2) Duties to which a determination under subsection (1) applies (fixed period duties) may, subject to the relevant determination under that subsection and to subsection (6), be performed by:
- (a) the employment of a fixed period employee; or
 - (b) the promotion or transfer of an ongoing employee for a fixed period.

- (3) In making a determination under subsection (1), the Commissioner must specify a period, not exceeding 5 years, as the period for which a person may be employed to perform the duties.
- (4) The Commissioner may determine the terms and conditions to apply in relation to employment to perform fixed period duties, and where such a term or condition is inconsistent with this Act, the term or condition so determined prevails and the conditions of or under this Act, to the extent of the inconsistency, have no effect.
- (5) A person's employment to perform fixed period duties may be renewed in accordance with the terms and conditions determined under subsection (4).
- (6) A Chief Executive Officer must not employ a person to perform fixed period duties unless the Commissioner has made a determination under subsection (4) in relation to employment to perform those duties.
- (7) If an ongoing employee is promoted or transferred under subsection (2)(b) for a period, the employee's terms and conditions of employment are varied during the period to the extent of the determination under subsection (4).

34A Casual employment

- (1) The Commissioner may determine the duties or classes of duties in an Agency or the Public Sector generally that:
 - (a) may be performed on a casual basis; or
 - (b) may only be performed on a casual basis.
- (2) A person cannot be employed as a casual employee to perform duties other than duties to which a determination under subsection (1) applies.
- (3) The Commissioner may determine the terms and conditions to apply to casual employees, and where such a term or condition is inconsistent with this Act, the term or condition so determined prevails and the conditions of or under this Act, to the extent of the inconsistency, have no effect.
- (4) A Chief Executive Officer must not employ a casual employee unless the Commissioner has made a determination under subsection (3) in relation to the duties the person is to perform.

- (5) If a casual employee is employed under a contract of employment for a specified period of time, the person's contract of employment may be renewed in accordance with the terms and conditions determined under subsection (3).

35 Transfers

- (1) The Chief Executive Officer of an Agency may transfer an employee employed in the Agency to perform other duties in the Agency, being duties the Chief Executive Officer considers the employee is capable of performing and is competent and qualified to perform, and those duties may be required to be performed in a different locality from the duties previously being performed by the employee.
- (2) The Chief Executive Officer of an Agency (Agency A) may, with the agreement of the Chief Executive Officer of another Agency (Agency B), transfer an employee in Agency A to perform duties normally performed or to be performed by employees of the same designation in Agency B, being duties both Chief Executive Officers consider the employee is capable of performing and is competent and qualified to perform, and those duties may be required to be performed in a different locality from the duties previously being performed by the employee.
- (3) The Commissioner may transfer an employee from performing duties in one Agency to perform duties in another Agency, and those duties may be required to be performed in a different locality from the duties previously being performed by the employee.
- (4) A transfer under this section may be ongoing or for a fixed period.
- (6) An employee transferred under this section must not refuse to commence the duties which the employee is transferred to perform in accordance with the directions given to the employee by the relevant Chief Executive Officer or the Commissioner, as the case may be.
- (7) The merit principle does not apply in relation to the exercise of a power under this section.

36 Transfer and change to duties generally

- (1) The duties assigned to an employee as mentioned in section 24(3)(e) may be varied without the consent of the employee.
- (2) The transfer of an employee under this Act may be made without the consent of the employee.

- (3) However, a transfer of an employee that would result in a reduction in the employee's designation cannot be made unless the employee consents to the reduction.
- (4) Subsection (3) applies subject to sections 46(3) and 49C(3).

37 Resignation

- (1) Subject to the terms of any contract under which he or she may be employed in the Public Sector, an employee may at any time, in writing signed by him or her and delivered to his or her Chief Executive Officer, resign from employment in the Public Sector.
- (2) The regulations may require a period of notice to be given or acceptance by a specified person or body of the resignation of an employee included in a specified class of employees or of an employee resigning in prescribed circumstances.
- (3) A resignation under this section may not be withdrawn except with the approval of the Chief Executive Officer.

38 Re-employment of persons resigning to become candidates at elections

- (1) Where the Chief Executive Officer of an Agency in which a person was employed immediately before the person's resignation is satisfied that:
 - (a) the person:
 - (i) resigned from the Public Sector in order to become a candidate for election, or to take his or her seat as a person elected, as a member of a House of Parliament of the Commonwealth or as a member of the Legislative Assembly; and
 - (ii) was a candidate at the election for the purposes of which the person resigned; and
 - (iii) was not duly elected at that election; and
 - (b) the resignation took effect not earlier than one month before the date on which nominations for that election closed;

the Chief Executive Officer must, subject to this Act, on application by the person within 2 months after the declaration of the results of the election, re-employ the person to the Public Sector, without probation, at a salary equivalent, or as nearly as possible equivalent, to the salary that the person had immediately before the date on which his or her resignation took effect.

(2) Where:

- (a) proceedings in respect of an offence against a law of the Commonwealth or the Territory or of a State or another Territory are pending against a person who has made an application under subsection (1); or
- (b) proceedings in respect of an offence against a law of a foreign country (being an offence which, if committed in the Territory, would have constituted an offence against a law of the Commonwealth or of the Territory) are pending against a person who has made such an application;

the person is not eligible for re-employment until the proceedings have been determined and unless the person has been acquitted of the offence or the Chief Executive Officer is of the opinion that the nature and circumstances of the offence are such that, if the offence had been committed by an employee, it is unlikely that the employment of the employee in the Public Sector would be terminated.

- (3) A person must be re-employed under this section without being required to undergo any medical examination and whether or not the person possesses the appropriate educational qualifications or meets the appropriate requirements.
- (4) A person re-employed under this section is taken to have continued in the Public Sector as if he or she had been on leave without salary during the period from the day of the person's resignation to and including the day immediately preceding the day on which the person was re-employed and, subject to section 32(8), that period forms part of the person's service in the Public Sector for all purposes other than calculating recreation or sick leave entitlements.

38A Multiple employment arrangements

- (1) A person may be employed in the Public Sector under 2 or more separate contracts of employment at the same time.
- (2) If a person is so employed, this Act applies to the person in his or her capacity as an employee under each contract separately.

38B Special measures to address inequality of opportunity

- (1) The merit principle does not prevent the implementation of special measures.

(2) The Chief Executive Officer of an Agency must not implement special measures in connection with human resource management in the Agency unless the measures have been approved by the Commissioner.

(3) In this section:

special measures means a program, plan or arrangement to which section 57 of the Anti-Discrimination Act applies.

Note for section 38B

Section 57 of the Anti-Discrimination Act allows a person in certain circumstances to discriminate against another person in a way that would otherwise be unlawful under that Act if doing so is designed to promote equality of opportunity for a group of people who are disadvantaged.

Part 6 Secondment and redeployment

Division 1 Secondment

39 Chief Executive Officers may make secondment arrangements

(1) The Chief Executive Officer of an Agency may enter into a secondment arrangement if the Chief Executive Officer considers it is in the public interest to do so.

(2) A secondment arrangement may involve:

(a) the secondment of an employee in the Agency to perform duties for a person outside the Public Sector; or

(b) the secondment of a person employed by a person outside the Public Sector to perform duties in the Agency.

(3) A secondment arrangement may be for any period not exceeding 3 years.

Division 2 Redeployment and redundancy

41 Declaration of ongoing employee to be potentially surplus to requirements

(1) If the Chief Executive Officer of an Agency is of the opinion that an ongoing employee is potentially surplus to the requirements of the Agency, the Chief Executive Officer may, by written notice to the employee, declare the employee to be potentially surplus to the requirements of the Agency and state the reasons for the declaration.

- (2) The Chief Executive Officer must give a copy of the notice to the Commissioner and any employee organisation prescribed by regulation for the employee.

- (1) A Chief Executive Officer may transfer under this section an ongoing employee declared under section 41(1) to be potentially surplus, including to perform duties in a different locality from the duties previously being performed by the employee.
- (2) The merit principle does not apply in relation to the exercise of a power under this section.

43 Redeployment and redundancy

- (1) Where a Chief Executive Officer is unable under section 35 or 42 to transfer an ongoing employee declared under section 41(1) to be potentially surplus, the Chief Executive Officer may request the Commissioner to exercise the Commissioner's powers under this section.
- (2) Where the Commissioner receives a request under subsection (1), the Commissioner may:
 - (a) do either or both of the following:
 - (i) direct the Chief Executive Officer to take such steps in relation to the training and redeployment of the employee, within such time, as the Commissioner thinks fit;
 - (ii) give any other Chief Executive Officer directions relating to the transfer of the employee under section 35; or
 - (b) direct the Chief Executive Officer to terminate the employment of the employee in the Public Sector on such conditions as the Commissioner thinks fit.

Part 7 Employee performance and inability

44 Inability or unsatisfactory performance

- (1) There are inability or performance grounds for an employee if the employee:
 - (a) is not able to perform the duties he or she is assigned to perform (whether because of physical or mental illness or disability or any other reason); or

- (b) is not suited to perform, or capable of efficiently performing, those duties; or
 - (c) is not licensed, registered or otherwise qualified for the efficient and satisfactory performance of those duties; or
 - (d) is not performing those duties efficiently or satisfactorily.
- (2) If the Chief Executive Officer of an Agency is satisfied, on reasonable grounds, that there are inability or performance grounds for an employee in the Agency, the Chief Executive Officer may take action in relation to the employee under section 46(1).
- (3) In determining whether there are inability or performance grounds for an employee, the Chief Executive Officer must have regard to:
- (a) the performance and conduct principle; and
 - (b) the employee's performance record under the Agency's employee performance management and development system as mentioned in section 24(3)(f); and
 - (c) any other matter the Chief Executive Officer considers relevant.
- (4) For determining whether there are reasonable grounds as mentioned in subsection (2), the Chief Executive Officer may, subject to the Employment Instructions, do one or more of the following:
- (a) obtain relevant information from persons as, and in the way, the Chief Executive Officer considers appropriate;
 - (b) consult with persons as the Chief Executive Officer considers appropriate;
 - (c) make inquiries as the Chief Executive Officer considers appropriate;
 - (d) if applicable, obtain a report from a health practitioner under section 45.
- (5) The Chief Executive Officer must not take remedial action in relation to an employee unless satisfied:
- (a) the action is appropriate and reasonable in the circumstances; and

- (b) the employee:
 - (i) has been given written notice of the proposed action and the grounds for taking it; and
 - (ii) has been given a reasonable opportunity to show why the action should not be taken.
- (6) As soon as practicable after making a decision under subsection (2), the Chief Executive Officer must give written notice of the decision to the employee.
- (7) If the decision is to take remedial action, the notice must:
 - (a) give the reasons for the decision; and
 - (b) inform the employee of the employee's right to request a review under section 59 or to appeal under section 59A (as appropriate).
- (8) A decision to take remedial action takes effect on the day the notice is given to the employee or a later day specified in the notice.

45 Medical examination and report

- (1) This section applies if the Chief Executive Officer suspects, on reasonable grounds, that inability or performance grounds for an employee are caused or contributed to by a physical or mental illness or disability of the employee.
- (2) The Chief Executive Officer may engage a health practitioner, approved by the Commissioner, to determine whether the employee has a physical or mental illness or disability that may adversely affect the employee's performance of the duties he or she is assigned to perform.
- (3) The employee must submit to examination by the health practitioner as directed by the Chief Executive Officer, and to any subsequent examinations or tests required by the health practitioner.
- (4) The health practitioner must give a written report about the employee to the Chief Executive Officer.
- (5) The report must set out the health practitioner's opinion as to the following:
 - (a) whether the employee has a physical or mental illness or disability that may adversely affect the employee's performance of those duties;

- (b) if so:
 - (i) the likely direct or indirect effect of the illness or disability on the employee's performance of those duties; and
 - (ii) how long the illness or disability or its effects are likely to last;
 - (c) whether disclosure of the information in the report to the employee by the Chief Executive Officer might be prejudicial to the employee's health or wellbeing.
- (6) Subject to subsection (7), the Chief Executive Officer must give a copy of the report to the employee as soon as practicable after the Chief Executive Officer receives it.
- (7) If the health practitioner's opinion under subsection (5)(c) is that disclosure might be prejudicial to the employee's health or wellbeing, the Chief Executive Officer:
- (a) must not disclose the information in the report to the employee; but
 - (b) if asked by the employee to do so, must give a copy of the report to another health practitioner nominated by the employee.

46 Remedial action

- (1) If permitted under section 44 to take action in relation to an employee, the Chief Executive Officer may:
- (a) take no further action; or
 - (b) do one or more of the following:
 - (i) order the employee to undertake training, counselling or other remedial activities the Chief Executive Officer considers appropriate in the circumstances;
 - (ii) reduce the employee's salary within the range applicable for the employee's designation;

or
 - (c) terminate the employee's employment.
- (2) The employee must comply with an order made under subsection (1)(b)(i) within the period specified in the order.
 - (3) The merit principle and section 36(3) do not apply in relation to a transfer under subsection (1)(b)(iii).

Note for section 46(3)

Because section 36(3) does not apply, a transfer may be made under section 46(1)(b)(iii) that results in a reduction in the employee's designation.

47 Employee may be suspended pending decision

- (1) This section applies if the Chief Executive Officer of an Agency:
 - (a) suspects there are inability or performance grounds for an employee in the Agency; and
 - (b) has not yet made a decision under section 44(2); and
 - (c) is of the opinion that the suspected inability or performance grounds are of such a serious nature that the employee should not continue performing the duties he or she is assigned to perform pending the making of that decision.
- (2) The Chief Executive Officer may suspend the employee:
 - (a) for a period or periods not exceeding a total of 6 months; and
 - (b) with or without remuneration.

- (6) If the Chief Executive Officer makes a decision under section 44(2) in relation to an employee suspended under this section:
- (a) the employee must be credited with any leave that would have accrued to the employee for the period of the suspension had the employee not been suspended; and
 - (b) if the suspension was without remuneration for any period – the employee must be paid the remuneration to which the employee would have been entitled for that period had the employee not been suspended; and
 - (c) if the employee took leave as mentioned in subsection (5)(b) – the employee must be re-credited with the leave so taken.
- (7) Subsection (6) does not apply if the employee's employment is terminated under section 46(1)(c).

48 Retirement on the grounds of invalidity

- (1) For this section an employee is totally and permanently incapacitated if, because of a physical or mental condition, it is unlikely the employee will ever be able to work in any employment or hold any office for which he or she is reasonably qualified by education, training or experience or could become reasonably qualified after retraining.
- (2) If the Chief Executive Officer of an Agency is satisfied, on reasonable grounds, an employee in the Agency is totally and permanently incapacitated the Chief Executive Officer may retire the employee on the grounds of invalidity.

 - (i) has been given written notice of the proposed action and the grounds for taking it; and
 - (ii) has been given a reasonable opportunity to show why the action should not be taken.
- (4) This section does not affect the Chief Executive Officer's ability to take action under section 44 in relation to the employee.
