 - (e) whether the proposed method of service is appropriate in the circumstances.

- (5) If the documents mentioned in subsection (1) are personally served, the CEO must explain the duration and effect of the order to the parent or other person:
 - (a) in the preferred language of the person; or
 - (b) if it is not reasonably practicable to do so in the preferred language of the person – in a language and manner the person understands.
- (6) The CEO:
 - (a) must explain the effect of the application and written notice to the child; and
 - (b) may give a copy of the application and written notice to the child if the CEO considers it is appropriate to do so having regard to the child's maturity and understanding.

125 Parties to proceedings

 - (ii) is considered by the Court to have a direct and significant interest in the wellbeing of the child.

126 Hearing in absence of parents

- (1) The Court may hear the application in the absence of a parent of the child if:
 - (a) the Court is satisfied the CEO has given the parent a notice that complies with section 124(1); or

- (b) the CEO has not given the parent a notice that complies with section 124(1) but the Court is satisfied the application should be heard in the absence of the parent despite the non-compliance.
- (2) However, this section does not limit the Court's power to exclude the parent or anyone else from Court proceedings.

127 Court-ordered mediation conference

- (1) Before deciding the application, the Court may order a mediation conference to be convened for the purposes specified by the Court.
- (2) Without limiting subsection (1), the conference may be convened for one or more of the following purposes:
 - (a) establishing the circumstances giving rise to the application;
 - (b) reviewing an arrangement that has been made for the care of the child;
 - (c) making recommendations about the arrangement for the care of the child;
 - (d) arriving at an agreement on the best means of safeguarding the wellbeing of the child.

 - (i) the conference be convened at a specified time and place; and
 - (ii) specified persons (including parties to the proceedings and any other persons) are to attend the conference.
- (4) A person required to attend the conference may be represented by someone appointed by the person.
- (5) The regulations may make any provision for the conference, including the following:

- (1A) If the Court proposes to specify other directions under subsection (1)(a)(ii), the Court must hear submissions from the parties in relation to those directions.
- (2) The Court may make any order for an agreement arising from a mediation conference for the child.

129 When Court must make order

The Court must make the protection order if the Court is satisfied:

- (a) the child:
 - (i) is in need of protection; or
 - (ii) would be in need of protection but for the fact that the child is currently in the CEO's care, and
- (b) the proposed order is:
 - (i) appropriate; and
 - (ii) the least intrusive means to safeguard the wellbeing of the child.

130 Court to consider certain matters

- (1) In making the decision, the Court must consider:
 - (a) any matters arising from a mediation conference for the child; and

- (b) the wishes of the following:
 - (i) the child;
 - (ii) a parent of the child;
 - (iii) a person proposed to be given daily care and control of, or parental responsibility for, the child under the order;
 - (iv) any other person considered by the Court to have a direct and significant interest in the wellbeing of the child; and
 - (c) if the CEO proposes that daily care and control of, or parental responsibility for, the child be given to a person (including, for example, the CEO):
 - (i) any report or recommendation given to the Court by the CEO about the proposal; and
 - (ii) whether there is another person who is better suited to be given daily care and control of, or parental responsibility for, the child; and
 - (iii) the needs of the child for long-term stability and security; and
 - (ca) the steps taken by the Territory:
 - (i) to provide the services necessary to address any likely risks of harm to the child; and
 - (ii) to ensure the services were provided in accordance with section 42(4); and
 - (d) any other matters the Court considers relevant.
- (2) Without limiting subsection (1)(c), the Court must not give a person who is not a parent or family member of the child or a member of the kinship group to which the child belongs parental responsibility for the child under a long-term parental responsibility direction unless the Court is satisfied:
- (a) giving the responsibility to the person is the best means of safeguarding the child's wellbeing; and
 - (b) there is no one else who is better suited to be given the responsibility.

- (3) The Court must not make a protection order unless a care plan, interim care plan or proposed care plan has been provided to the Court.

131 Extraterritoriality

To avoid doubt, the Court may make a protection order for the child even if the circumstances causing the child to be in need of protection occurred:

- (a) outside the Territory or Australia; or
- (b) partly in the Territory and partly outside the Territory or Australia.

132 Duration of order

- (1) The order has effect as specified by the Court unless the Court extends, varies or revokes the order under section 136 or 137.
- (2) In any case, the order must cease to have effect when the child turns 18 years of age.

133 Notice of order

- (1) As soon as practicable after the order is made, the CEO must give each party to the proceedings (except the child):
 - (a) a copy of the order; and
 - (b) a written notice:
 - (i) explaining the effect of the order; and
 - (ii) stating the party may appeal against the order under Division 6 within 28 days after it is made; and
 - (iii) stating how the appeal may be instituted.
- (2) The CEO may give the copy and notice:
 - (a) by personally serving them on the party; or
 - (b) if the CEO considers it impracticable to do so:
 - (i) by leaving them at the party's last known address; or
 - (ii) by sending them by post to that address.

(3) The CEO:

- (a) must explain the effect of the order and notice to the child; and
- (b) may give a copy of the order and notice to the child if the CEO considers it appropriate to do so having regard to the child's maturity and understanding.

134 Obligations to supervise protection of child

- (1) If the order includes a supervision direction requiring the CEO to supervise the protection of the child in relation to specified matters, the CEO must, while the order is in force, maintain reasonable contact with:
 - (a) the child; and
 - (b) the parents of the child; and
 - (c) any other person who is residing with the child.
- (2) For subsection (1):
 - (a) the parents of the child or any other person who has daily care and control of the child must:
 - (i) keep the CEO informed about where the child is residing; and
 - (ii) allow an authorised officer to have reasonable contact with the child; and
 - (b) an authorised officer may, at any reasonable time, enter a place where the child is located to have contact with the child; and
 - (c) an authorised officer may, at any reasonable time, enter the place where the child ordinarily resides to inquire about the specified matters; and
 - (d) the CEO may, by written notice, require a parent of the child or a person residing with the child to do or refrain from doing a specified thing for the supervision direction.
- (3) The notice must state the reasons for the requirement.
- (4) An authorised officer may use any reasonable force or assistance in acting under this section.

135 Obligations of CEO for order

- (1) If the protection order gives daily care and control of, or parental responsibility for, the child to the CEO, the CEO:
 - (a) must give the parents of the child information about:
 - (i) where the child is residing; and
 - (ii) any arrangement that has been made for the care of the child; and
 - (b) must provide opportunity for the child to have contact with the parents and other family members of the child as often as is reasonable and appropriate in the circumstances.
- (2) Subsection (1) has effect subject to any contrary direction of the Court.

136 Extension of order

- (1) The CEO may, before the order ceases to be in force, apply to the Court for the order to be extended for a further specified period.
- (2) The order may be extended more than once.
- (3) This Subdivision applies to an application for an extension of the order in the same way as it applies to the application for the order.
- (4) However, in considering the application, the Court may take into account:
 - (a) any contravention of the order by a person; and
 - (b) any contravention of this Act in relation to the child by a person.

137 Variation and revocation of order

- (1) Before the order ceases to be in force, a party to the proceedings for the making of the order may apply to the Court for the order to be:
 - (a) varied; or
 - (b) revoked; or
 - (c) revoked and replaced by a new protection order.

- (2) However, a parent of the child must not:
 - (a) apply for the order to be replaced if the proposed new order will give parental responsibility for the child to a different person; or
 - (b) without the leave of the Court – apply for the order to be varied or revoked if a similar application has been decided by the Court.
- (3) The Court may only grant the leave if the Court is satisfied the parent has new evidence to present to the Court.
- (4) An application under subsection (1) must be made as if it were an application for a protection order.
- (5) This Subdivision applies to the application with the following changes:
 - (a) as soon as practicable after making the application, the applicant must give a copy of the application to the CEO and each parent of the child (except a parent who is the applicant);
 - (b) section 124(1) to (5) do not apply to the CEO, but the CEO must comply with section 124(6) as soon as practicable after receiving the copy of the application;
 - (c) in considering the application, the Court may take into account:
 - (i) any contravention of the order by a person; or
 - (ii) any contravention of this Act in relation to the child by a person.
- (6) The Court may revoke the order only if the Court is satisfied the order is no longer necessary.

Subdivision 4 Permanent care orders

137A Permanent care order

- (2) Only the CEO may apply for a permanent care order.

- (3) The CEO may apply to the Court for a permanent care order for a child if the CEO reasonably believes:
- (a) the child would be in need of protection but for the fact that, at the time the application is made, a protection order with a long-term parental responsibility direction giving parental responsibility for the child to the CEO or another specified person (or both) is in force for the child for a period that ends immediately before the child turns 18 years of age; and
 - (b) the proposed order is the best means to safeguard the wellbeing of the child; and

137B Applications

- (1) The application must include the following:

- (2) A care plan for the child must be provided with the application unless it is not reasonably practicable to do so.
- (3) If a care plan is not provided with the application the Court may set a date by which the plan is to be provided to the Court, which must not be more than 21 days after the application is made.

137C Notice of application

- (1) As soon as practicable after applying for the order, the CEO must give to each parent of the child and the person proposed to be given the parental responsibility for the child under the order:
- (a) a copy of the application; and

- (b) a written notice:
 - (i) stating when and where the application is to be heard; and

- (2) The CEO must give a copy of the application and written notice by personally serving them on each parent and the person proposed to be given the parental responsibility for the child under the order.
- (3) If the Court is satisfied that it is impracticable to personally serve the documents mentioned in subsection (1), the Court may order that the documents be served in another manner.
- (4) In deciding whether to make an order under subsection (3) the Court must have regard to the following:
 - (a) whether attempts have been made to effect personal service and why the attempts were unsuccessful;

 - (b) the CEO has not given the parent a notice that complies with section 137C(1)(b) but the Court is satisfied the application should be heard in the absence of the parent despite the non-compliance.
- (2) However, subsection (1) does not limit the Court's power to exclude the parent or anyone else from Court proceedings.

137F Order of Court

- (1) The Court may:
- (a) make a permanent care order for the child as proposed by the CEO; or
 - (b) dismiss the application.
- (2) If the Court makes a permanent care order, any protection order in force for the child is revoked.
- (3) When making a permanent care order for a child, the Court:

 - (b) must not make any other direction.

137G Making permanent care orders

The Court must make the permanent care order if the Court is satisfied:

- (a) the child would be in need of protection but for the fact that the child is, at the time the order is made in the care of the CEO or another person; and
- (b) the order is the best means to safeguard the wellbeing of the child; and
- (c) the person proposed to be given the parental responsibility for the child under the order has demonstrated the person's suitability to have that responsibility.

137H Court to consider certain matters

In making the decision whether or not to make the permanent care order, the Court must consider:

To avoid doubt, the Court may make a permanent care order for the child even if the circumstances causing the child to be in need of protection occurred:

- (a) outside the Territory or Australia; or
- (b) partly in the Territory or Australia and partly outside the Territory or Australia.
