The Law Reform (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act is in this Act referred to as the Principal Act.

4. Interpretation

Section 15 of the Principal Act is amended –

- (a) by omitting from subsection (1) the definition of "fault" and substituting the following:

" 'wrong' means an act or omission that –

Law Reform (Miscellaneous Provisions) Amendment Act 2001

- (a) gives rise to a liability in the tort of negligence;
  - (b) amounts to a breach of a contractual duty of care that is concurrent with a duty of care in tort; or
  - (c) amounts to a breach of statutory duty."; and
- (b) by omitting from subsection (2) "fault" (twice occurring) and substituting "wrong".

5. Apportionment of liability

Section 16 of the Principal Act is amended –

- (a) by omitting subsections (1) and (2) and substituting the following:

"(1) If a person suffers damage as the result partly of the person's failure to take reasonable care and partly of the wrong of another person or other persons –

- (a) a claim in respect of the damage is not defeated by reason of the contributory negligence of the person suffering the damage; and
- (b) the damages recoverable in respect of the wrong are to be reduced to the extent the court thinks just and equitable having regard to the claimant's share in the responsibility for the damage.

"(2) Subsection (1) does not operate to defeat any defence arising under a contract.

"(2A) If a contract or enactment providing for the limitation of liability is applicable to a claim in respect of damage referred to in subsection (1), the amount of damages recoverable by the claimant is not to exceed the maximum limit applicable under the contract or enactment."; and

- (b) by omitting from subsection (3) "if the claimant had not been at fault" and substituting "but for the claimant's share in the responsibility for the damage".

6. Repeal and substitution

Section 21 of the Principal Act is repealed and the following is substituted:

"21. Application of section 16

Law Reform (Miscellaneous Provisions) Amendment Act 2001

- (b) a case where the wrong giving rise to a claim occurred before 28 June 1956 (which is the date of the commencement of the Law Reform (Miscellaneous Provisions) Ordinance 1956).

"21A. Transitional: application of section 16 on commencement of *Law Reform (Miscellaneous Provisions) Amendment Act 2001

"(1) This section applies subject to section 21.

"(2) Subject to subsection (3), section 16 as in force on and after the commencement of the Law Reform (Miscellaneous Provisions) Amendment Act 2001 applies to a wrong committed before that commencement as if that Act were in force when the wrong was committed.

"(3) Section 16 as in force before the commencement of the Law Reform (Miscellaneous Provisions) Amendment Act 2001 continues after that commencement to apply, as if that Act had not commenced, to a wrong committed before that commencement about which –

- (a) legal proceedings were commenced before that commencement (whether or not the legal proceedings are finally determined, subject to appeal or discontinued or otherwise not proceeded with before or after that commencement); or
- (b) the persons responsible for the damage had before that commencement entered into an agreement (including an agreement about liability only) to settle claims arising from the wrong.

"(4) For the avoidance of doubt concerning the application of subsection (3)(a), the following legal proceedings are to be determined as if the Law Reform (Miscellaneous Provisions) Amendment Act 2001 had not commenced:

- (a) legal proceedings referred to in subsection (3)(a);
- (b) any other legal proceedings that are about the wrong the subject of legal proceedings referred to in subsection (3)(a) and that are commenced after those legal proceedings (whether before or after the commencement of the Law Reform (Miscellaneous Provisions) Amendment Act 2001).
